Africa in Contemporary Perspective Manuh, Takyiwaa,Sutherland-Addy, Esi,2014-05-08 An important feature of Ghanaian tertiary education is the foundational African Studies Programme which was initiated in the early 1960s Unfortunately hardly any readers exist which bring together a body of knowledge on the themes issues and debates which inform and animate research and teaching in African Studies particularly on the African continent This becomes even more important when we consider the need for knowledge on Africa that is not Eurocentric or sensationalised but driven from internal understandings of life and prospects in Africa Dominant representations and perceptions of Africa usually depict a continent in crisis Rather than buying into external representations of Africa with its lacks and aspirations for Western modernities we insist that African scholars in particular should be in the forefront of promoting understanding of the pluri lingual overlapping and dense reality of life and developments on the continent to produce relevant and usable knowledge Continuing and renewed interest in Africa s resources including the land mass economy minerals visual arts and performance cultures as well as bio medical knowledge and products by old and new geopolitical players obliges African scholars to transcend disciplinary boundaries and to work with each other to advance knowledge and uses of those resources in the interests of Africa s people

Recreational and Environmental Markets for Forest Enterprises ,2001 It is now increasingly recognized that forests have multiple functions and can provide opportunities for leisure recreation and tourism and other environmental benefits as well as timber In general such public goods are assumed not to be marketable However this book challenges this assumption and shows how these issues can be tackled from an economics and marketing perspective The work is based on an EU funded project conducted from four university or research centres Hamburg Germany Padua Italy Vienna Austria and Wageningen The Netherlands Many case studies and original surveys are presented from these countries which provide practical solutions to market these forest enterprises These empirical data are then related to economic models concerning public goods This book is relevant to those studying or involved in marketing in the forest tourism recreation and leisure industries
