Asian Scientists on the Move Anju Mary Paul, 2021-12-09 The growing scientific research output from Asia has been making headlines since the start of the twenty first century But behind this science story there is a migration story The elite scientists who are pursuing cutting edge research in Asia are rarely homegrown talent but were typically born in Asia trained in the West and then returned to work in Asia Asian Scientists on the Move explores why more and more Asian scientists are choosing to return to Asia and what happens after their return when these scientists set up labs in Asia and start training the next generation of Asian scientists Drawing on evocative firsthand accounts from 119 Western trained Asian scientists about their migration decisions and experiences and in depth analysis of the scientific field in four country case studies China India Singapore and Taiwan the book reveals the growing complexity of the Asian scientist migration system

Central Asia's Second Chance Martha Brill Olcott, 2005 A specialist in Central Asian and Caspian affairs at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace Olcott argues that having failed to create viable states after their liberation from Soviet domination the region has been granted a second chance to do right by the presence of US military bases and international aid and attention in return for her

Japan Joins Changing Asia Shahid Javed Burki, National University of Singapore. Institute of South Asian Studies, 2009 The elections in Japan on 30 August 2009 are likely to take the country in an entirely different direction from the one it has pursued since the end of World War II Then it had allied itself closely with the United States the country that gave it a new Constitution and promised it security against foreign aggression It also gave an enormous amount of authority to the bureaucracy that wielded power much greater than that exercised by the elected representatives of the people All that is set to change When the opposition leader Yukio Hatoyama forms the government he will set the country on a path that will begin to deviate significantly from the past Change will come but it will arrive slowly Since it is coming at a slow pace it will perhaps endure over a long time What the world may see is a significant restructuring of the global political and economic order particularly in Asia There will be changes in five areas all of them significant for the world Japan will begin to address the problem posed by a rapidly ageing population it will redirect public money towards the less advantaged segments of the population it will reduce the power of the bureaucracy it will redefine its relations with the United States and it will get closer to its Asian neighbours in particular China

"Changing Asia." ,1959 Egon Erwin Kisch, the Raging Reporter Egon Erwin Kisch, Harold B. Segel, 1997 Egon Erwin Kisch 1885 1948 is widely regarded as one of the most outstanding journalists of the twentieth century He is also credited with virtually defining reportage as a form of literary art in which accuracy of observation and fidelity to facts combine with creative narrative Born in Prague under the Austro Hungarian Empire Kisch began his career as a crime reporter for local newspapers He saw combat in Serbia as a soldier in the Austro Hungarian Army in World War I led an abortive left wing coup d etat in Vienna in 1918 and became famous in the German speaking world as der rasende Reporter the raging reporter when he exposed the attempted cover up of a case of treason in high places that rocked the Habsburg Empire on the eve of World War I He visited North Africa the Soviet Union Central Asia Australia China and the United States where he traveled from one coast to the other as an ordinary seaman made friends with Charlie Chaplin and Upton Sinclair and commented with wit and irony on American life A United States Policy for the Changing Realities of East Asia Daniel I. Okimoto,1996 Changing Visions of East Asia, 1943-93 R.B. Smith,2006-09-27 This fascinating work draws together a lifetime of research by highly regarded scholar Ralph Bernard Smith who at the time of his death in December 2000 was examining the post war changes in East Asian politics economics and society Climate Change 2022 - Impacts, Adaptation and Vulnerability Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC),2023-06-22 The Working Group II contribution to the Sixth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC provides a comprehensive assessment of the scientific literature relevant to climate change impacts adaptation and vulnerability The report recognizes the interactions of climate ecosystems and biodiversity and human societies and integrates across the natural ecological social and economic sciences It emphasizes how efforts in adaptation and in reducing greenhouse gas emissions can come together in a process called climate resilient development which enables a liveable future for biodiversity and humankind The IPCC is the leading body for assessing climate change science IPCC reports are produced in comprehensive objective and transparent ways ensuring they reflect the full range of views in the scientific literature Novel elements include focused topical assessments and an atlas presenting observed climate change impacts and future risks from global to regional scales Available as Open Access on Cambridge Core China's Rise and Changing Order in East Asia David Arase,2017-01-05 This book discusses the impact of China's rise on regional order at three levels Sino US relations East Asia's contested sub regions and regional institutions Sino US relations provide a framework to examine macro regional relations In East Asia's contested sub regions Northeast Asia Southeast Asia and the eastern Indian Ocean region the author explores the crucial role regional powers and local states play in maintaining effective governance and stability The author shows how regional institutions attempt to develop cooperation and shared norms that work toward regional community The inclusion of leading experts from China the US South Korea Japan Vietnam Singapore and India gives this collection a unique viewpoint and reveals how China's rise looks from inside and outside China as well as inside and outside the region Addressing Climate Change and Migration in Asia and the Pacific Bart W. Édes,2012 Climate change will increase the frequency of extreme weather events making more geographic places inhospitable to human habitation and secure livelihoods This report presents a detailed picture of the potential impacts of climate change on migration in Asia and the Pacific It draws upon a wealth of research to provide policy makers with informed analysis of an emerging phenomenon requiring urgent attention by governments and the international community The report also suggests that climate induced migration should be seen not only as a threat to human well being but also as a potential tool to promote human adaptation to climate change
