Changing Climate and Resource use Efficiency in Plants Amitav Bhattacharya, 2018-11-01 Changing Climate and Resource Use Efficiency in Plants reviews the efficiencies for resource use by crop plants under different climatic conditions. This book focuses on the challenges and potential remediation methods for a variety of resource factors. Chapters deal with the effects of different climatic conditions on agriculture radiation use efficiency under various climatic conditions, the efficiency of water and its impact on harvest production under restricted soil moisture conditions, nitrogen and phosphorus use efficiency, nitrogen use efficiency in different environmental conditions under the influence of climate change, and various aspects of improving phosphorus use efficiency. The book provides guidance for researchers engaged in plant science studies, particularly Plant Crop Physiology, Agronomy, Plant Breeding, and Molecular Breeding. In addition, it provides valuable insights for policymakers, administrators, plant-based companies, and agribusiness companies. Explores climatic effects on agriculture through radiation, water, nitrogen, and phosphorus use efficiency. Guides the planning and research of and recommendations for fertilizer application for different crops under various climatic conditions. Discusses efficiency improvements for plant and molecular breeders seeking to maximize resource use.

Sustainable Goat Production in the Changing Climate

Veerasamy Sejian, M.V. Silpa, D. Thirunavukkarasu, 2025-06-01 Sustainable Goat Production in the Changing Climate aims to make the global scientific and academic communities aware of the potential of goats as a livestock of the future. When compared to more popular meat sources like cattle and swine, goats have a lower carbon footprint and can aid in mitigating the effects of climate change as well as improving food production, poverty, and equity issues. This book will discuss the implications of climate change on goat production systems and emphasize the physiological potential of goats to adapt to erratically changing climatic conditions. Furthermore, the book includes chapters on strategies to mitigate the effects of climate change on goat production and highlights novel technologies used to assess the impact of heat stress in goats. Technology transfer strategies and policy-related issues will also be covered. Written and edited by an international team of experts on goats, livestock, animal agriculture, and climate-smart food systems, Sustainable Goat Production in the Changing Climate will appeal to a broad audience from researchers to livestock specialists, veterinarians, and policymakers in food and sustainability. Explores the potential of goats as future livestock species for animal origin foods. Summarizes the impact of climate change on goats and goat production systems. Proposes technological interventions ranging from management to bio-technological solutions. Identifies gaps in technology transfer activities and policymaking and provides solutions.

Changing Climate, Changing Worlds Meredith

Welch-Devine, Anne Sourdriil, Brian J. Burke, 2020-04-07 This book explores how individuals and communities perceive and understand climate change using their observations of change in the world around them Because processes of climatic change operate at spatial and temporal scales that differ from those of everyday practice the phenomenon can be difficult to understand However flora and fauna which are important natural and cultural resources for human communities do respond to the pressures of environmental change Humans in turn observe and adapt to those responses even when they may not understand their causes Much of the discussion about human experiences of our changing climate centers on disasters and extreme events but we argue that a focus on the everyday on the microexperiences of change has the advantage of revealing how people see feel and make sense of climate change in their own lives The chapters of this book are drawn from Asia Europe Africa and South and North America They use ethnographic inquiry to understand local knowledge and perceptions of climate change and the social and ecological changes inextricably intertwined with it Together they illustrate the complex process of coming to know climate change show some of the many ways that climate change and our responses to it inflict violence and point to promising avenues for moving toward just and authentic collaborative responses Living with Climate Change Jane A. Bullock, George D. Haddow, Kim S. Haddow, Damon P. Coppola, 2017-08-02 The climate has changed and communities across America are living with the consequences rapid sea level rise multi state wildfires heat waves and enduring drought Living with Climate Change How Communities Are Surviving and Thriving in a Changing Climate details the steps cities are taking now to protect lives and businesses to reduce their vulnerability and to adapt and make themselves more resilient The authors included in this book have been directly involved in the successful design and implementation of community based adaptation and resilience programs Changing Climate Politics Yael Wolinsky-Nahmias, 2014-02-25 Changing Climate Politics provides a comprehensive account of the current state of government action and political participation in the United States on the issue of climate change Author Yael Wolinsky Nahmias evaluates the role of the federal government the courts states and cities in tackling the problems created by climate change offering an inclusive and balanced assessment of progress and challenges The book further explores the growing role of civic society in climate action plans analyzing public opinion the U S climate movement policy making through ballot measures consumer action and the prospect of a social transformation toward a more sustainable society This timely volume examines new approaches to policies and civic action on climate change addressing critical questions about the responsibilities and obligations of governments and citizens Hay-fever and Asthma Ray Morton Balyeat, 1928 Carnegie Institution of Washington Publication, 1905 Bulletin - Smithsonian Institution.
