Strachan, Alison O'Malley-Younger, 2010 The essays in this collection all revolve around the notion of change in Ireland whether by revolution or by evolution Developments in the shared histories of Ireland and Great Britain are an important theme throughout the book The volume begins by examining two remarkable Irishmen on the make in Georgian London the boxing historian Pierce Egan and the extraordinary Charles Macklin eighteenth century actor playwright and manslaughterer The focus then moves to aspects of Hibernian influence and the presence of the Irish Diaspora in Great Britain from the medieval period up to the late nineteenth and early twentieth century celebrations of St Patrick's Day in Manchester The book also considers the very different attitudes to the British Empire evident in the career of the 1916 rebel Sir Roger Casement and the Victorian philologist and colonial servant Whitley Stokes Further essays look at writings by Scottish Marxists on the state of Ireland in the 1920s and the pronouncements on the Troubles by John Lennon and Paul McCartney The book also examines change in the culture of the island of Ireland from the development of the Irish historical novel in the nineteenth century to ecology in contemporary Irish women's poetry to the present state of the Roman Catholic Church in Ireland Contemporary Irish authors examined include Roddy Doyle Joseph O'Connor and Martin McDonagh

Haunted Heaney Ian Hickey, 2021-07-29 Haunted Heaney Spectres and the Poetry looks at the ghosts and spectres present within the poetry of the Nobel Prize winning poet Seamus Heaney Covering Heaney's work from his first collection Death of a Naturalist to his final collection Human Chain this volume analyses Heaney's poetry through the lens of hauntology as presented by Jacques Derrida in Specters of Marx This book presents spectres and ghosts not in the conventional sense as purely supernatural physical manifestations haunting a place but instead as having a non physical presence In this sense past cultures societies texts poets and memories are examined as having a spectral influence on Heaney's writing. His work is indebted to hauntedness as the past in all its forms sutures itself within the present of his thinking and writing and our reading of the poetry. Topics for discussion include the Norse spectres in the early poetry, British colonialism and its haunting influence on the poet, a renewed look at the bog poems as being influenced by the spectral, the classical influence of Virgil and Dante, and a reading of Route 110 that incorporates the major instances of Heaney's career into a singular poem. The book also incorporates Heaney's prose work and interviews into the discussion and uses these works as a metacommentary to the poetry, offering a deeper insight into the mind of one of Ireland's greatest writers. □□□□□□□□, 1993 Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 1997-04 To Talent

Alone Richard Pine, Charles Acton, 1998. This volume describes the foundation and growth of the Royal Irish Academy of Music and surveys the history of music education in Ireland since 1848. Specialist chapters cover such subjects as the evolution of the curriculum and the development of the examination and scholarship system. Seamus Heaney Catharine Malloy, Phyllis Carey, 1996. This collection of current critical essays explores Irish poet Seamus Heaney's aesthetic consciousness as it fuses a variety of discourses into revelatory poetic texts. The collection differs from previous volumes in that its essays, while offering a wide variety of approaches, all concern themselves with the central critical issue of Heaney's artistic shaping. Arranged loosely in a chronological pattern corresponding to Heaney's poetic career, the essays offer insights into concerns ranging from Heaney's reshaping of the mythological to his use of individual images to the influence of such mentors as Dante and Joyce to Heaney's attempts to shape the numinous to his unique rendering of the words of others through translation.
