Cytoskeleton Cellular Architecture And Choreography:

The Cytoskeleton: Cellular Architecture and Choreography Alice Fulton, 1984-09-27 The student of biological science in his final years as an undergraduate and his first years as a graduate is expected to gain some familiarity with current research at the frontiers of his discipline New research work is published in a perplexing diversity of publications and is inevitably concerned with the minutiae of the subject The sheer number of research journals and papers also causes confusion and difficulties of assimilation Review articles usually presuppose a background knowledge of the field and are inevitably rather restricted in scope There is thus a need for short but authoritative introductions to those areas of modern biological research which are either not dealt with in standard introductory text books or are not dealt with in sufficient detail to enable the student to go on from them to read scholarly reviews with profit This series of books is designed to satisfy this need The authors have been asked to produce a brief outline of their subject assuming that their readers will have read and remembered much of a standard introductory textbook of biology This outline then sets out to provide by building on this basis the conceptual framework within which modern research work is progressing and aims to give the reader an indication of the problems both conceptual and practical which must be overcome if progress is to be maintained

Animal Cell Bioreactors Chester S. Molecular and Cellular Biology of Prostate Cancer D.S. Coffey, James P. Karr, R.G. Smith, D.J. Tindall, 2012-12-06 These proceedings of the 5th Prouts Neck Meeting on Prostate Cancer held in October 1989 highlight the many advances in the understanding of prostatic growth and function at the cellular and molecular levels which have been registered since the first Prouts Neck Meeting in 1985 a meeting which also focused on the then current concepts and basic approaches to understanding prostate cancer Intervening Prouts Neck Meetings in 1986 1987 and 1988 were devoted to treatment image cytometry and clinical markers As before the Prouts Neck tradition of bringing together an international multidisciplinary group of experts for 3 days to exchange ideas and new data in the relaxed atmosphere of an old inn on the scenic Maine coast proved to be an ideal combination for a highly successful conference Accordingly the Organ System Program of the National Cancer Institute plans to use the Prouts Neck model for future conferences on other solid tumors bladder in 1990 and kidney in 1991 and will return to the prostate in 1992 A new dimension was added to the current program through the inclusion of a poster session to recognize the research of pre and postdoctoral investigators The posters were judged by Drs Collette Freeman Frank French Shutsung Liao Robert Matusik and Henry Sun The three winners in alphabetical order were John Fabian Robert Getzenberg and Ming Fong Lin
