Partnering with Parents to Ask the Right Questions Luz Santana,Dan Rothstein,Agnes Bain,2016-09-19 How can we make it easier for schools and families to work together on behalf of all students It all begins by tapping into the different strengths educators and parents and caregivers can contribute to building a strong partnership Partnering with Parents to Ask the Right Questions by Luz Santana Dan Rothstein and Agnes Bain of the Right Question Institute presents a deceptively simple strategy for how educators can build effective partnerships with parents especially those who typically have not been actively involved in their children s schooling It distills complex important ideas on effective civic participation into an easy to learn process that teaches parents two fundamental skills they can use to support the education of their children monitor their progress and advocate for them asking better questions and participating effectively in key decisions Based on more than two decades of work and research in a wide range of low and moderate income communities this book empowers overburdened and under resourced educators and parents to work together and achieve their common goal of successful students This indispensable guide includes case studies spanning K 12 classrooms and it explores ways to assist struggling students collaborate on IEPs and communicate with families of English language learners The accessible and easy to use format field tested advice and vivid examples from schools that put the advice into practice make this a must have for everyone from the classroom to the central office

From Parents to Partners Janis Keyser,2006-10-11 With effective communication as its theme From Parent to Partner explores the reasons and basis for developing ongoing partnerships with parents and families of children in childcare settings and provides the tools and strategies to build the support network within which these partnerships thrive

Creating Family-School Partnerships Sandra Webster,2023-12-22 Introducing a new model of family school partnership entitled Pathways to Partnership Sandra presents a template to teachers and school leaders for developing authentic genuine family school partnerships that reflect contemporary global thinking and practice She offers a new perspective on the family school partnership and provides support and guidance to school leaders to move away from outdated but ingrained approaches to more effective family school partnerships Globally schools are becoming less an education centre and more of a hub that integrates health and social services With this change the way schools regard family involvement has also shifted with family involvement being viewed as a strategically critical role This shift has been influenced not just by the recent pandemic but also by the global trend towards decentralisation and democratisation of the decision making power in schools in which parent empowerment is implicit However many schools have not followed a modern engagement model in the way they approach partnership with the family and still espouse approaches that are school centric and outdated in their orientation

Pathways to Partnership helps move leaders from talking to towards learning with parents Using case studies and the voices of parents and teachers to bring the content to life Sandra provides strategies for school leaders and teachers to use to establish contemporary partnerships with families ones that reflect current thinking that leads schools into authentic collaboration with their most important partners

Creating Authentic Relationships with Parents of Young Children Carla Solvason, Johanna Cliffe, 2022-09-28 Dealing with parents can be scary and intimidating especially when you are relatively new to your role but it can also be hugely rewarding What do you need to know Which barriers are you likely to face Most importantly how can you nurture a positive and authentic relationship with parents and carers where you genuinely work together for the best interests of the child Written by authors who have experienced being on both sides of the fence as educators and as parents this practical book takes a frank approach to recognising the turbulent world of parenting and shines a light on issues that are all too often dismissed It considers the pragmatic kind and caring ways that educational settings can support parents struggles as well as benefitting from their wide ranging knowledge and capabilities With activities and reflections included throughout the book invites the reader to consider their practice and to look at their relationships with parents with fresh eyes all whilst keeping the child in mind With a focus on celebrating the value of truly listening and forming authentic relationships this book will be essential reading for early years educators childminders primary teachers TAs and SENCOs
