Detours Sandra Williams, 1995-01-01 Detours Gay Davidson-Zielske, 1997 Aberration in Modern Poetry Lucy Collins, Stephen Matterson, 2011-12-22 This critical work considers the role played by elements that might be considered aberrational in a poet's oeuvre With an introductory essay exploring the nature of aberration these fourteen contributions investigate the work of major 20th century poets from the U S Britain Ireland Australia and New Zealand Aberration is considered from the standpoint of both the artist and the audience prompting discussion on a range of important issues including the formation of the canon Each essay discusses the status of the aberrant work and the ways in which it challenges enlarges or supports the overall perception of the poet Life's Not About the Destination, But the Detours Adeline Fairfax, 2025-01-09 Life's Not About the Destination But the Detours is a heartfelt collection of poems that invites readers on a journey through the winding paths of life Each verse captures the beauty found within unexpected moments celebrating the twists and turns that define our experiences Through evocative imagery and lyrical language the poet illustrates how the detours along our routes whether joyous challenging or simply mundane shape who we are These poems encourage reflection on the often overlooked and undervalued aspects of life's journey reminding us that growth and discovery reside not only in the destination but in the stories we gather along the way This collection resonates with anyone who has paused to savor the scenery of their life weaving together themes of resilience love and the magic of being present Open the pages and embrace the detours there you will find the essence of what it truly means to live Detour Diana Vidutis, 2017-07-04 Detour A Side Trip Through Chemotherapy and Poetry evolved from 9 months of emails as the author entered the world of Stage IIIB cancer treatment Starting on her first day in chemotherapy she describes the process with keen observation and some humor delving into an arsenal that includes religion philosophy and nature Written for friends and family about eighty got her daily missives these emails started out as a way to calm them down and keep them updated on her progress Using denial as a shield she eventually segues into reflections on the unexpected impact of cancer on her life and then into the surprising comfort of poetry A year later someone suggested her positive experience might make a useful book Reading at the Limits of Poetic Form Jacob McGuinn, 2024-05-15 Pushing the boundaries of critical reading and the role of objects in literature How does literary objecthood contend with the challenge of writing objects that emerge at an extreme limit of material presence Jacob McGuinn delves into the ways literature writes this indeterminate presence in the context of pre and post 68 Paris a vital moment in the history of criticism The works of poet Paul Celan philosopher Theodor Adorno and writer Maurice Blanchot highlight how the complexities of reading such a dematerialized object are part of the indeterminacy of material itself Indeterminate objects glass snow walls screens are subjects Celan describes as existing in meridian space while for Adorno and Blanchot criticism not only responds to this indeterminacy but also takes it as its condition Reading at the Limits of Poetic Form Dematerialization in Adorno Blanchot and Celan shows how these readings

simultaneously limit the object of criticism and outline alternative ways of thinking that lie between the models of critical formalism and historicism ultimately revealing the possible materiality of literature in unrealized history incomplete politics and nondetermining thinking Nimāi's Detour Satsvarūpa Dāsa Gosvāmī,1989 Asian Diaspora Poetry in North America Benzi Zhang,2007-12-12 Presenting a new way of reading that helps us discern some previously unnoticed or unnoticeable features of Asian diaspora poetry this volume highlights how poetry plays a significant role in mediating and defining cross cultural and transnational positions Asian diaspora poetry in North America is a rich body of poetic works that not only provide valuable material for us to understand the lives and experiences of Asian diasporas but also present us with an opportunity to examine some of the most important issues in current literary and cultural studies As a mode of writing across cultural and national borders these poetic works challenge us to reconsider the assumptions and meanings of identity nation home and place in a broad cross cultural context In recent postcolonial studies diaspora has been conceived not only as a process of migration in which people crossed and traversed the borders of different countries but also as a double relationship between different cultural origins With all its complexity and ambiguity associated with the experience of multi cultural mediation diaspora as both a process and a relationship suggests an act of constant repositioning in confluent streams that accommodate to multiple cultural traditions By examining how Asian diaspora poets maintain and represent their cultural differences in North America Zhang is able to seek new perspectives for understanding and analyzing the intrinsic values of Asian cultures that survive and develop persistently in North American societies Detours to Destiny Prophetic Poetry Dee Cooper-Durden,2005-05-01 To enter into Divine Destiny we must acquire the true knowledge of God of who we are who the Father is where we are our purpose for being where we came from and the very way back home the mystery of life As long as we are persistent in our pursuit of divine destiny hidden things are exposed and deep things are revealed This book is designed to lead you into His divine presence eternal love and perfect will where you will lack nothing
