Deutschstunde Roman:

The German Lesson Siegfried Lenz, 1986 The German Lesson marks a double triumph a book of rare depth and brilliance to begin with presented in an English version that succeeds against improbable odds in conveying the full power of the original Ernst Pawel New York Times Book Review The Child's View of the Third Reich in German Literature Debbie Pinfold, 2001-08-23 This book examines the ways in which German authors have used the child's perspective to present the Third Reich It considers how children at this time were brought up and educated to accept unquestioningly National Socialist ideology and thus questions the possibility of a traditional naive perspective on these events Authors as diverse as Günter Grass Siegfried Lenz and Christa Wolf together with many less well known writers have all used this perspective and this raises the question as to why it is such a popular means of confronting the enormity of the Third Reich This study asks whether this perspective is an evasive strategy a means of gaining new insights into the period or a means of discovering a new language which had not been tainted by Nazism This raises and addresses issues central to a post war aesthetic in German writing

The Fictions of Language and the Languages of Fiction Monika Fludernik, 2003-12-16 Monika Fludernik presents a detailed analysis of free indirect discourse as it relates to narrative theory and the crucial problematic of how speech and thought are represented in fiction Building on the insights of Ann Banfield's Unspeakable Sentences Fludernik radically extends Banfield's model to accommodate evidence from conversational narrative non-fictional prose and literary works from Chaucer to the present Fludernik's model subsumes earlier insights into the forms and functions of quotation and aligns them with discourse strategies observable in the oral language Drawing on a vast range of literature she provides an invaluable resource for researchers in the field and introduces English readers to extensive work on the subject in German as well as comparing the free indirect discourse features of German French and English This study effectively repositions the whole area between literature and linguistics opening up a new set of questions in narrative theory

Culture in Nazi Germany Michael H. Kater, 2019-05-21 A fresh and insightful history of how the German arts and letters scene was transformed under the Nazis Culture was integral to the smooth running of the Third Reich In the years preceding WWII a wide variety of artistic forms were used to instill a Nazi ideology in the German people and to manipulate the public perception of Hitler's enemies During the war the arts were closely tied to the propaganda machine that promoted the cause of Germany's military campaigns Michael H Kater's engaging and deeply researched account of artistic culture within Nazi Germany considers how the German arts and letters scene was transformed when the Nazis came to power With a broad purview that ranges widely across music literature film theater the press and visual arts Kater details the struggle between creative autonomy and political control as he looks at what became of German artists and their work both during and subsequent to Nazi rule

Allusions in the Press Paul Lennon, 2008-08-22 This corpus based study of allusions in the British press shows the range of targets journalists allude to from Shakespeare to TV soaps from Jane Austen to Hillary Clinton from hymns to nursery rhymes proverbs and riddles It analyzes the linguistic forms allusions take and demonstrates how allusions function meaningfully in discourse It explores the nature of the background cultural and intertextual knowledge allusions demand of readers and sets out the processing stages involved in understanding an allusion Allusion is integrated into existing theories of indirect language and linked to idioms word play and metaphor

Indo-German Review ,1969 Unravelling the Labyrinth Kerry Dunne, Ian Roy Campbell, 1997 Unravelling the Labyrinth contains essays on a range of German writers including Robert Walser Franz Kafka H Iderlin Theodor Fontane and Friedrich D rrenmatt Reflecting the wide range of interests of the recipient Professor Eric Marson the focus of the essays is on decoding the metaphorical plane of meaning of the text from a methodological approach of close reading
