Deux Mondes A Community Approach:

Negotiating the New Europe Dimitris Papadimitriou, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2002 Offering a new and challenging perspective on how the European Union EU sought to structure its relations with Central and Southeast Europe after the Cold War this volume draws upon key debates in both politics and international relations A historically and theoretically informed examination of the EU s engagement in Central and Eastern Europe since 1989 the book combines conceptual rigour with clear empirical analysis firmly grounding the study of the European Union s current enlargement process in established theoretical perspectives The book is written in an engaging and accessible way which will appeal to academics students and practitioners alike

Law and Intangible Cultural Heritage in the City Sara Ross, 2019-06-20 With disappearing music venues and arts and culture communities at constant risk of displacement in our urban centers the preservation of intangible cultural heritage is of growing concern to global cities This book addresses the role and protection of intangible cultural heritage in the urban context Using the methodology of Urban Legal Anthropology the author provides an ethnographic account of the civic effort of Toronto to become a Music City from 2014-18 in the context of redevelopment and gentrification pressures Through this the book elucidates the problems cities like Toronto have in equitably protecting intangible cultural heritage and what can be done to address this It also evaluates the engagement that Toronto and other cities have had with international legal frameworks intended to protect intangible cultural heritage as well as potential counterhegemonic uses of hegemonic legal tools Understanding urban intangible cultural heritage and the communities of people who produce it is of importance to a range of actors from urban developers looking to formulate livable and sustainable neighbourhoods to city leaders looking for ways in which their city can flourish to scholars and individuals concerned with equitability and the right to the city This book is the beginning of a conversation about what is important for us to protect in the city for future generations beyond built structures and the role of intangible cultural heritage in the creation of full and happy lives The book is of interest to legal and sociolegal readers specifically those who study cities cultural heritage law and legal anthropology

The North British Review, 1861 Academy and Community William R. Keylor, 1975 Most informed observers would agree that an inordinate proportion of the most exciting innovative and ground breaking work in the field of historical scholarship since the First World War has taken place in the French university system In this book Keylor describes the establishment of history as an academic discipline in France between 1870 and 1914 and the formation of the scientific school of historical writing in the French university system In a lucid study the author explains the complex process by which the new discipline of history was organized furnished with a set of professional goals and provided with the theoretical and institutional means of achieving them Keylor discusses the multifarious problems that confronted the university historians as they sought to transform their craft from an avocation of amateurs into a scholarly discipline pursued by trained specialists employed by the university system the growing tensions between the universitaires and the literary historians outside the academy the conflict between the scientific claims of the French historical school and its commitment to employ history for patriotic and political ends and the interdisciplinary rivalries between academic history and the fledgling discipline of sociology     Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature ,1918 Author and subject index to a selected list of periodicals not included in the Readers guide and to composite books     The Unitarian Review ,1887
