Creating A Dialectical Social:

Creating a Dialectical Social Science I.I. Mitroff, R.O. Mason, 2012-12-06 The depth intensity and long standing nature of the disagreements between differing schools of social thought renders more critical than ever the treatment of dialectical reasoning and its relationship to the social sciences The nature of these disagreements are deeply rooted in fundamentally differing beliefs regarding among many things 1 the nature of man 2 the role of theory versus data in constructing social theories 3 the place and function of values versus facts in inquiry etc It has become more and more apparent that such fundamental differences cannot be resolved by surface appeals to rationality or to consensus Such for it is precisely the definitions of appeals are doomed to failure rationality and consensus that are at odds That is different schools not only have different definitions of rationality and consensus but different notions regarding their place and function within a total system of inquiry A dialectical treatment of conflicts is called for because such conflicts demand a method which is capable of recognizing first of all how deep they lie Secondly a method is demanded which is capable of appreciating that the various sides of the conflict fundamentally depend on one another for their very existence they depend in other words on one another not in spite of their opposition but precisely because of it

Mason, 1981 Dialectic Special Pedagogy Louise Bøttcher, Charlotte Mathiassen, 2024-11-28 This book offers theoretical and practical discussion on the inclusion of students with disabilities and learning impairments within the learning environments and beyond It explores how social relations and social activities can support the personal and social transitions of children young people and adults in need of specialized support Written by academics based in Australia Canada Denmark the Netherlands and the UK the contributors take a cultural historical and dialectical approach as a starting point for special pedagogy This approach enables special pedagogy to rise above biological essentialist environmental social training and purely sociological approaches and to focusing on development as a psychological as well as a social phenomenon The chapters cover a range topics including deaf education primary and secondary disabilities play mediation incarcerated youth and mental illness The contributors draw heavily on psychologist Lev Vygotsky s work and his notion of the zone of proximal development Dialectical Social Science in the Age of Complexity Ian Trevor King, 2001 This study places dialectical thinking theory and method on a solid scientific footing with respect to the contemporary sciences of holistic relationism and offers a competing even superior philosophy of social science to the mainstream version of positivistic behaviourism It also indicates ways in which a dialectical holistic relational social science will help to shape a more democratic humane style of politics and public policy It subjects mainstream social science to wholesale reorientation and in doing so offers a valid prescription for a post positivistic post behaviourist social science that is scientifically grounded
