

5 Steps for Brain-Building Serve and Return

from Filming Interactions to Nurture Development (RIAD)

Child-adult relationships that are responsive and attentive—with lots of back and forth interactions—build a strong foundation in a child's brain for all future learning and development. This is called "serve and return," and it takes two to play! Follow these 5 steps to practice serve and return with your child.

Serve and return interactions make everyday moments fun and become second nature with practice.

By taking small moments during the day to do serve and return, you build up the foundation for children's lifelong learning.

Notice the serve and share the child's focus of attention.

Is the child looking or pointing at something? Making a sound or facial expression? Moving those little arms and legs? That's a serve. The key is

Return the serve by supporting and encouraging.

You can offer children comfort with a hug and gentle words, help them, play with them, or acknowledge them. You can make a sound or facial expression.
