The Uganda Journal ,1971 A Bibliography of Lugbara Studies and Literature A. T. Dalfovo,1988 Anarchy Unbound Peter T. Leeson,2014-04-14 In Anarchy Unbound Peter T Leeson uses rational choice theory to explore the benefits of self governance Relying on experience from the past and present Professor Leeson provides evidence of anarchy working where it is least expected to do so and explains how this is possible Provocatively Leeson argues that in some cases anarchy may even outperform government as a system of social organization and demonstrates where this may occur Anarchy Unbound challenges the conventional self governance wisdom It showcases the incredible ingenuity of private individuals to secure social cooperation without government and how their surprising means of doing so can be superior to reliance on the state Occasional Publication University of the State of New York. Foreign Area Materials Center,1965 The Origins of the Langi of Uganda Bridget Read Mugane,1972 Publication ,1981 Lawino's People Okot p'Bitek, Frank Knowles Girling,2019 Okot p Bitek s epic poem Song of Lawino debates Acholi customs around the time that Uganda became independent This book presents seminal anthropological works from that period by p Bitek himself and by Frank Girling who was researching among the Acholi when p Bitek was a teenager They were both introduced to anthropology in Oxford by Edward Evan Evans Pritchard and they both faced difficulties writing up their fieldwork Girling a veteran of the Spanish Civil War was a suspected communist activist and was expelled from Uganda in 1950 Against the odds he managed to complete his doctorate but the Colonial Office demanded cuts to the published version Okot p Bitek is a famous African creative writer but his engaging anthropological studies have been unjustly neglected He found academic ideas about Africans taught at Oxford misconceived and offensive He rejected established analytical approaches and consequently the university failed his doctorate in 1970 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1965 Sources of the African Past David Robinson,Douglas K. Smith,1999 Sources of the African Past combines a case study approach with an emphasis on primary and orally transmitted sources to accomplish three objectives to tell a story in some depth to portray major themes and to raise basic questions of analysis and interpretation The case studies are set in the nineteenth century and deal with critical periods in the fortunes of five societies in different parts of the continent South East and West Africa The authors wish students to work with the raw materials of history and to that end have provided a workbook for a laboratory experience Sources of the African Past is designed for use in a wide variety of courses and in conjunction with other texts The authors have kept their own interpretations to a minimum and invited scrutiny of their decision of selection and arrangement They chose the cases on the basis of several criteria geographical coverage abundance and diversity of primary sources importance in the secondary literature and relevance to important historical problems All the studies emphasize political change All witness some growth in European intervention In selecting the documents the authors sought a balance of perspective without sacrificing accuracy and relevance This means a conscious effort to present a variety of views African and European internal and external participant and observer those of the victims as well as those of the victors those of the people as well as those of the elite Within the limitations of space they have made the excerpts sufficiently long to allow the reader to examine the author's style purpose and other characteristics Keeping in mind the limitations of libraries they have attempted to make each chapter self contained
