Doing Research:

The Essential Guide to Doing Research Zina O'Leary, 2004-06-09 The Essential Guide to Doing Research is a comprehensive practical and engaging guide to understanding and embarking upon social science research. By adopting a clear and accessible approach, Zina O'Leary encourages students to think about and engage with every aspect of the research process. The book stresses that all good research should be seen as a process of constantly assessing one's work and making decisions about the best possible means for obtaining credible data and results.

The Essential Guide to Doing Your Research Project Zina O'Leary, Emma Tennent, 2025-01-08 Doing a research project or dissertation can be daunting. This practical book will help you dive straight in, driving each step of the process with confidence. Packed with features to support your learning, this guidebook gives you invaluable advice at each stage, from picking a topic, designing your study, and navigating ethics, to collecting and analysing data, then sharing your findings. This fifth edition empowers you to be critical and self-reflective when consuming and doing research, with 19 critical thinking challenges. Equips you with the skills to make good decisions, prepare effectively, and take charge of your own project. Draws on case studies of real-world research to inspire your creativity and curiosity. This popular down-to-earth guide is a must-have for undergraduate and postgraduate students embarking on research projects across the social sciences.

Doing Research Nel Verhoeven, 2011-11-01 This book clarifies the complex process of doing applied research. It explains the necessary basic skills for conducting research step by step. All stages of the research process are covered, from setting up a research project through collecting data and analyzing results to drawing conclusions and writing and evaluating a research report. Many recent examples establish the link to the daily practice. In this new edition, book and website are completely updated.

Doing Academic Research Ted Gornellos, Gary Beck, Timothy Hackman, 2025-12-29 Doing Academic Research is an accessible guide to research focusing on the social sciences, humanities, and business. It approaches research as a process, steering readers through the beginnings of topic choice through choosing methods, samples, and then sharing their results. The book guides readers through six methods in detail: interviews, focus groups, surveys, textual analysis, content analysis, and critical discourse analysis, providing enough information to successfully choose and conduct each method. It also covers observational methods like ethnography, experiments, and meta-synthesis, explaining when and why a researcher might choose those methods. It then shows readers how to analyze both qualitative and quantitative data with tips and tricks to make the process more intuitive and concludes with a discussion of how to effectively write, present, and publish research. The chapters also include additional material.

ranging from discussions of ethics connected to specific methods suggestions on how to work effectively with libraries and ways to use artificial intelligence tools in the process A selection of online resources are also available with websites videos selected bibliographies and other guides to deepen understanding of the content This book is perfect for both undergraduate and graduate students as well as professional academics and researchers looking to expand into additional methods or refine their understanding and approach to the ones they currently use Additional resources are available at <https://doingacademicresearch.com>

Centering Humanism in STEM Education Bryan Dewsbury, Susannah McGowan, Sheila S. Jaswal, Desiree Forsythe, 2024-09-24 Research demonstrates that STEM disciplines perpetuate a history of exclusion particularly for students with marginalized identities This poses problems particularly when science permeates every aspect of contemporary American life Institutions repeated failures to disrupt systemic oppression in STEM has led to a mostly white cisgender and male scientific workforce replete with implicit and or explicit biases Education holds one pathway to disrupt systemic linkages of STEM oppression from society to the classroom Maintaining views on science as inherently objective isolates it from the world in which it is performed STEM education must move beyond the transactional approaches to transformative environments manifesting respect for students social and educational capital We must create a STEM environment in which students with marginalized identities feel respected listened to and valued We must assist students in understanding how their positionality privilege and power both historically and currently impacts their meaning making and understanding of STEM
