Community of Insecurity Laurie Nathan,2016-05-23 Exploring the formation evolution and effectiveness of the regional security arrangements of the Southern African Development Community SADC Nathan examines a number of vital and troubling questions why has SADC struggled to establish a viable security regime why has it been unable to engage in successful peacemaking and why has it defied the optimistic prognosis in the early 1990s that it would build a security community in Southern Africa He argues that the answers to these questions lie in the absence of common values among member states the weakness of these states and their unwillingness to surrender sovereignty to the regional organization Paradoxically the challenge of building a co operative security regime lies more at the national level than at the regional level The author s perspective is based on a unique mix of insider access analytical rigour and accessible theory
