Desertification And Development:

Deforestation and desertification. Critical development issues? Andreas Michaelis, 2014-05-21 Essay from the year 2014 in the subject Politics Topic Development Politics grade 1 5 University of Warwick language English abstract Drought and desertification threaten the livelihood of more than 1 2 billion people across 110 countries Around 2 billion people live in dry lands which occupy around 40 per cent of the earth s land surface while 90 per cent of the people who live in drylands are from DC Kingsbury et al 2012 314 Drought and desertification effect strongly the development of a country The town Baga in Nigeria was once a fisherman s village It was at the coast of the Tschad lake now it is more than 30km away from the lake The increasing desertification of the region at Tschad lake drove the city to become agriculturally centred the outcome of desertification for the local population is significant This essay argues for a strong impact of environmental problems like desertification and deforestation on the development of a country This essay wants to highlight the importance of these problems for development science The key argument of this essay is the reciprocal influence between development and environmental problems Development often generates environmental problems which in turn aggravates future development

Trends in Sustainable Development ,2008 The report highlights key developments and recent trends in agriculture rural development land desertification and drought five of the six themes being considered by the Commission on Sustainable Development CSD at its 16th and 17th sessions 2008 2009 It notes progress in a number of areas while at the same time acknowledging that in other areas significant work is still needed to advance implementation of intergovernmentally agreed goals and targets Publisher s description Creeping Environmental Problems and Sustainable Development in the Aral Sea Basin Michael Glantz, 1999-05-13 Environmental degradation in the Aral Sea basin has been a touchstone for increasing public awareness of environmental issues The Aral crisis has been touted as a quiet Chernobyl and as one of the worst human made environmental catastrophes of the twentieth century This multidisciplinary 1999 book comprehensively describes the slow onset of low grade but incremental changes i e creeping environmental change which affected the region and its peoples Through a set of case studies it describes how the region s decision makers allowed these changes to grow into an environmental and societal nightmare It outlines many lessons to be learned for other areas undergoing detrimental creeping environmental change and provides an important example of how to approach such disasters for students and researchers of environmental studies global change political science and history Governing Global Desertification Pierre-Marc Johnson, Karel Mayrand, Marc Paquin, 2006 This volume examines the United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification UNCCD signed in 1994 It studies the links between land degradation and poverty the role of civil society and good governance in implementing the UNCCD and the various approaches to fighting desertification The Trialism and Application of Human Settlement, Inhabitation and Travel Environment Studies Binyi Liu, 2024-11-11 This book studies human settlements in China in terms of Human Settlements Trialism in 4 typical human settlement types valley plain hilly
