Modernity And Consumption: Theory, Politics, And The Public In Singapore And Malaysia Antonio Leopold Rappa,2002-03-25 The Enlightenment theorists involved in the public private debate exposed the logical fallacies of theology and the philosophical weaknesses of metaphysics but left little room for understanding contemporary modes of consumption What does it mean to be a consumer in the early 21st century Do modern markets provide real choices for consumers in neoliberal capitalist democracies Or are consumers ironically slaves to their own patterns of consumption Rejecting Habermas conceptualizations in The Structural Transformation of the Public Sphere 1991 Rappa offers an examination of modernity and consumption with a non Marxist modernity Resistance theoretical frame mRf He argues that late modernity the ethos experience and consciousness of global and technological transformation today is not about the fusion of public and private spaces Rather modernity and consumption involves the deep penetration of private space by public space to the extent that private space becomes dependent conditional and decrepit The Private has become contingent on the Public Decisions about what to consume no longer reflect the mindful choices of private interest seeking and wealth maximizing individuals but reveal a new kind of public control through foundational images of success failure horror violence and hope
