Deafness And Communication:

What Are the Communication Considerations for Parents of Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing Children? National Inst. on Deafness and Other Communications Disorders, Bethesda, MD.,2006 Deafness or hearing impairment affects not only a child who is deaf or has a hearing loss but also the child s family friends and teachers For hundreds of years people have debated the best ways to develop communication skills and provide education for deaf and hard of hearing children This fact sheet presents a few points upon which scientific and health professionals educators and experienced parents commonly agree A list of contacts including addresses phone numbers and e mail addresses is also included Deafness and Communication Donald G. Sims, Gerard G. Walter, Robert L. Whitehead, 1982 This text provides an overview of the relevant literature and practices in coping with the special problems faced by the deaf population Enhancing Communication Skills of Deaf & Hard of Hearing Children in the Mainstream James J. Mahshie, 2005 With many children who are deaf or hard of hearing now integrated in mainstream classroom settings speech language pathologists and school based clinicians are encountering this population in growing numbers This book is designed to help clinicians who may have little or no experience with this population to understand its unique communication needs and develop clinical skills for working with them It takes a holistic view of children who are deaf or hard of hearing and stresses the child as a communicator rather than focusing on the disorder itself and provides a useful framework for viewing and assessing children s communication abilities and goals at all stages of language development It also includes specific assessment and treatment techniques to help develop and improve communication skills in order to maximize this populations potential for learning Choices in Deafness Sue Schwartz, 1996 Tells the stories of deaf and hearing impaired children discusses modern treatments and compares speech oral and total communication approaches to the education of the deaf International Symposium on Speech Communication Ability and Profound Deafness Gunnar Fant, 1972 Communication and Adult Hearing Loss Norman P. Erber, 1993 Designed to show relatives friends and health care workers how to communicate more effectively with hearing impaired adults by speaking more clearly clarifying sentences and reducing distractions Suggests how the hearing impaired person can help Samples of everyday conversation show how these practical techniques are applied The author is a senior lecturer in Adult Aural Rehabilitation at La Trobe University who conducts clinical research and has published over 60 articles and four textbooks on auditory training telephone communication and communication therapy in this field With bibliography and index Overcoming Deafness: The Story Of Hearing And Language Ellis Douek, 2014-06-27 Hearing is one of the most empowering of our senses it enables us to work socialise and communicate It s hard to imagine living in a silent world yet just 60 years ago this was the inevitable outcome for the majority of people with ear disease or language problems Nowadays virtually everybody can be helped to some extent and many cured But how did we get here This book tells the fascinating story of science and medicine s winning battle with deafness covering all the hearing diseases and the progress of their treatment from the beginning of Ellis Douek's career in the 1950s to the present day Unlike other books on hearing this covers language disorders as well as the surgery of deafness it is a book about human communication discussing music and poetry as well as delving into the medical science In our ageing population hearing disorders are increasingly a part of everyday life that they are almost always treatable should not be taken for granted This book should be the first reference for anyone who has experienced hearing loss and would like to know more about hearing and language development and for professionals in hearing science medicine and allied fields of interest

English in International Deaf Communication Cynthia J. Kellett Bidoli, Elana Ochse, 2008 Outside English speaking countries deaf people come into contact with the English language in specific domains indirectly through interpretation and translation or directly by learning it as a foreign language This volume explores a range of intercultural interlinguistic encounters with English
