Charlotte Perkins Gilman and a Woman's Place in America Jill Bergman, 2017-02-07
Charlotte Perkins Gilman and a Woman's Place in America probes how depictions of space confinement and liberation establish both the difficulty and necessity of female empowerment Turning Victorian notions of propriety and a woman's place on its ear this essay collection studies Gilman's writings and the manner in which they push back against societal norms and reject male dominated confines of space The contributors present readings of some of Gilman's most significant works By examining the settings in The Yellow Wallpaper and Herland for example the volume analyzes Gilman's construction of place her representations of male dominance and female subjugation and her analysis of the rules and obligations that women feel in conforming to their assigned place the home Additionally this volume delineates female resistance to this conformity Contributors highlight how Gilman's narrators often choose resistance over obedient captivity breaking free of the spaces imposed upon them in order to seek or create their own habitats Through biographical interpretations of Gilman's work that focus on the author's own renouncement of her natural role of wife and mother contributors trace her relocation to the American West in an attempt to appropriate the masculinized spaces of work and social organization

Raising the Dust Beth Sutton-Ramspeck,2004 Raising the Dust identifies a heretofore overlooked literary phenomenon that author Beth Sutton Ramspeck calls literary housekeeping The three writers she examines rejected turn of the century aestheticism and modernism in favor of a literature that is practical even ostensibly mundane designed to set the human household in order To Mary Augusta Ward Sarah Grand and Charlotte Perkins Gilman housekeeping represented public responsibilities making the food supply safe reforming politics and improving the human race itself Raising the Dust places their writing in the context of the late Victorian era in particular the eugenics movement the proliferation of household conveniences the home economics movement and decreased reliance on servants These changes affected relationships between the domestic sphere and the public sphere and hence shaped the portrayal of domesticity in the era s fiction and nonfiction Moreover Ward Grand and Gilman articulated a domestic aesthetic that swept away boundaries Sutton Ramspeck uncovers a new paradigm here literature as engaging the public realm through the devices and perspectives of the domestic Her innovative and ambitious book also connects fixations on cleaning with the discovery of germs the first bacterium discovered was anthrax and knowledge of its properties increased fears of dust analyzes advertising cards for soap and links the mental illness in Gilman s The Yellow Wall Paper to fears during the period of arsenic poisoning from wallpaper
