North and South Christine DeVine,Mary Ann Wilson,2014-07-24 North and South is a multi dimensional look at a prevailing theme in current discourse on the concept of borders This collection of essays invites us to cross historical regional and disciplinary boundaries The contributors consider a range of primary texts use a number of critical approaches and make some surprising connections The borders created by the concepts of north and south provoke us to ask if the terms continue to represent real divisions or if usage and habit have drained them of any real meaning And how have literary texts sought to represent and elucidate the divisions and to complicate and undermine such rigid categories This collection of essays considers such questions and offers some tentative and original answers The essays in North and South treat a wide variety of topics generically and geographically chronologically and creatively They interrogate the elusive topic of boundaries symbolic and literal boundaries as means of communication rather than division boundaries that create borderlands boundaries that invite transgression boundaries that resist erasure Across and within these boundaries the theme of identity emerges international national regional gendered racial ethnic

Contemporary Literary Landscapes Daniel Weston, 2017-05-15 Writing landscapes inevitably occurs in dialogue with a long textual and pictorial tradition but first hand experience also provides key stimuli to many writers accounts This monograph employs a comparative lens to offer an intervention in debates between literary scholars who focus on genre and those cultural geographers who are concerned that self perpetuating literary tropes marginalize practical engagements Suggesting that representation and experience are not competing paradigms for landscape Daniel Weston argues that in the hands of contemporary writers they are complementary forces building composite articulations of place In five case studies Weston matches a writer to a mode of apprehending place W G Sebald with picturing Ciaran Carson with mapping Iain Sinclair with walking Robert Macfarlane with engaging Kathleen Jamie with noticing Drawing out a range of sites at which representation and experience interact Weston s argument is twofold first interaction between traditions of landscape writing and direct experience of landscapes are mutually influential and second writers increasingly deploy style form and descriptive aesthetics to recover the experience of place in the poetics of the text itself As Weston shows emergent landscape writing shuttles across generic boundaries reflecting the fact that the landscapes traversed are built out of a combination of real and imaginary sources

The Deregulated Muse Sean O'Brien, 1998 Published in 1998 Sean O'Brien s essays in The Deregulated Muse cover key poets and movements in British and Irish poetry since the 1960s relating their work to politics culture and history

Postcolonial Overtures Julia C. Obert, 2015-10-29 Postcolonial Overtures explores the importance of sound in contemporary Northern Irish writing focusing on the work of three canonical poets Ciaran Carson Derek Mahon and Paul Muldoon Obert argues that these poets respond to what Edward Said calls geographical violence to the stratification of the North s visual spaces to the sectarian symbols splashed across Belfast and beyond by turning from the eye to the ear tentatively remapping place in acoustic space Carson for instance casts Troubles era Belfast as a demolition city its landmarks swallowed in the maw of time and trouble and tries to compensate for this inhospitality by reimagining landscape as soundscape an immersive auditory field This strategy suggests sound s political and affective potential music accent and even comfortingly familiar white noise can help subjects otherwise unmoored feel at home Drawing on a diverse range of fields Obert devotes two chapters to the examination of each poet s work allowing room for both in depth formalist readings and contextual and theoretical understandings of the poems and their reverberating effects

The Cambridge Introduction to British Poetry, 1945-2010 Eric Falci, 2015-11-12 This book provides an overview of poetry from England Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland from the postwar period through to the twenty first century

The Slow Road North Rosie Schaap, 2024-08-20 From the acclaimed author of the wonderfully funny and openhearted NPR Drinking with Men comes a poignant wrenching and ultimately hopeful book equal parts memoir and social history that follows the author after a series of tragic losses to Northern Ireland where she finds a path toward healing Rosie Schaap had a solid career as a journalist and a life that looked to others like nonstop fun all drinking and dining and traveling to beautiful places and getting paid to write about it But under the surface she was reeling from the loss of her husband and her mother who died just one year apart Caring for them had claimed much of her daily life in her late thirties Mourning them would take longer It wasn't until a reporting trip took her to the Northern Irish countryside that Rosie found a partner to heal with Glenarm a quiet seaside village in County Antrim That first visit made such an impression she returned to make a life This unlikely place in a small tough country mainly associated with sectarian strife gave her a measure of peace that had seemed impossible elsewhere Weaving personal narrative and social history The Slow Road North is a moving and wise look at how a community can offer the key to healing It's a portrait of a complicated place at a pivotal time through Brexit a historic school integration and a pandemic and a love letter to a village and a culture

Resurgence, 1990     The Irish Revolution Michael John Fitzgerald McCarthy, 1912     All Our Fault Daniel Mornin, 1991     Flowing, Still Pat Boran, 2009 Irish poetry is among the most vibrant language cultures in the world A decade after the landmark anthology Watching the River Flow A Century in Irish Poetry Poetry Ireland 1999 Flowing Still reissues the ten introductory essays from that book by some of the best known figures in contemporary Irish poetry among them Seamus Heaney John Montague Nuala Ní Dhomhnaill Eavan Boland and Ciaran Carson adding a number of extended essays which bring the book up to the present day This new volume aims to provide students and general readers alike with an affordable single volume introduction to Irish poetry since 1900 in the words of some of its finest living practitioners

Cenchrastus, 1990     Stepping Stones Mark Carruthers, Stephen Douds, 2001 The troubles of 1971 to 2001 saw Northern Ireland catapulted into the headlines across the world yet during the dark years of violence there was an impressive but much less reported flourishing of creative energy In this work a panel of writers comment on the artistic accomplishment of this extraordinary period Inspired by Causeway Michael Longley's powerful collection of essays published in 1971 this volume records the highs and lows of the years 1971 to 2000 of northern theatre poetry fiction visual arts and music as well as discussing the work of internationally famous local figures like Nobel poet Seamus Heaney and Oscar winning actors Liam Neeson and Stephen Rea It celebrates the best in achievement but also points out what was less successful and suggests how the various arts disciplines might develop in the years immediately ahead

Thinker Review, 1992     Fortnight, 2007     My Mother-city Gerald Dawe, 2007 For three decades Gerald Dawe has chronicled the difficult yet exhilarating interface where personal experience meets political and cultural realities The title essay My Mother City traces the altering map of Belfast in the late 50s and 60s through to the critical years of the Troubles and beyond with some of the city's leading artists profiled including Van Morrison Stewart Parker and Brian Moore Bit Parts is a familial exploration with Dawe uncovering the actual past underneath the clutter of northern stereotypes The lives of his great grandparents and grandmothers reveal a teeming and vibrant world often ignored by politicians and cultural critics alike
