Creativity Cass:

Copyright and Creativity Andreas Rahmatian, 2011-10-01 A fresh innovative thought provoking look at the development of copyright law as it pertains to creativity and one that will give even the most experienced reader fresh insight into this tangled area of law The author s language ability German English French and interdisciplinary background law and music combine to enable him to add significant analytical depth to the subject A must read in a time when our creative industries are being called upon to help re build our shattered economy Charlotte Waelde University of Exeter UK Professor Rahmatian is perhaps uniquely placed to offer a complete rethinking of the nature and function of copyright Working with original materials in original languages he spans the continental and common law traditions in a breathtaking synthesis of the varied justifications and uses or misuses of the concept of creativity as property Paul J Heald University of Georgia US Copyright and Creativity discusses the making of property out of creative works through the legal mechanism of copyright It shows the manner in which the law translates a great variety of expressions of the human mind into its normative system and transforms them into the property right of copyright or droit d auteur This timely book examines the proprietary features of copyright the inherent limitations of its powers and its justification and relationship to the non proprietary realm of the public domain The final parts of the book deal with the propertisation commodification of human authors themselves through their works as alienable objects of property the well known Romantic author critique as a sophisticated justification of that commodification and at an international level neo feudal and neo colonial developments as a result of this process This detailed study will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students legal sociologists and specialists in copyright property theory or legal theory and political philosophy with particular interest in property theory Practitioners within bodies involved in legal policy organisations concerned with law reform European institutions and international organisations will also find much to interest them in this book

Infertility and the Creative Spirit Roxane Head Dinkin, Robert J. Dinkin, 2011
Roxane Head Dinkin PhD a clinical psychologist practicing in Bradenton Florida who has long dealt with the problems of infertile women and history professor Robert J Dinkin have created an informative book showcasing seven prominent women who struggled with infertility and became creative powerhouses in a variety of fields Unable to have children themselves the Dinkins utilized their combined expertise and discovered how these seven women had worked through their infertility issues and honed their creativity to more fully utilize their talents Juliette Low founder of the Girl Scouts of the USA Joy Adamson wildlife conservationist and author of Born Free Josephine Baker entertainer and adoptive mother of twelve Frida Kahlo innovative artist Emma Goldman anarchist and birth control advocate Ruth Benedict leading anthropologist Marilyn Monroe film star and sexual icon Infertility produces a profound loss for women who hold the expectation that they will reproduce Infertility and the Creative Spirit clearly illustrates the connection between the desire and inability to have children and lasting accomplishments in other areas of life showing how infertile women contribute to the next generation
