Changing Global Environment:

Understanding the Global Environment Samir Dasgupta,2009 Globalization is often discussed in terms of its ecological ramifications Yet while ecological imbalance is today one of the greatest threats to mankind globalization is also a reality that is here to stay The volume therefore seeks to address how globalizing and environmental interests can be reconciled The essays in this volume state that globalization can work both in favour of and against the environment The major issues discussed in this topical volume are how globalization can be used to promote environmental reforms the role of individuals private organizations and governments in keeping environmental degradation in check and in promoting environmental reform globalization and ecological inequality women the environment and globalization changing nature of environmental movements overpopulation and the ecology the relation between the ecology and the economy and the effects of global climate changes

Changing the Global Environment Daniel B. Botkin,1989 In the last human generation we have learned that life existed on our earth for more than three billion years yet man has done more to change the earth and its ability to support life in the last few centuries than preceding life forms have over hundreds of millions of years And nearly all of these changes were brought about as unforeseen or unconsidered side effects of our technologies The editors of this book feel that rather than accepting environmental degradation as the wages of progress today we are seeing a more widely accepted idea that concern for the environment is simply good economics and planning In a series of essays written by environmental economic and social scientists from around the world Changing the Global Environment looks at the ecological problems facing us as we move into the next century and examines possible solutions suggested by such new techniques as remote sensing and the implementation of worldwide computer based data systems

The Changing Global Environment
S.F. Singer,2012-12-06 We know a great deal about historical climate and its variations from various geological studies There are two points worth remarking on One is that the climate changes frequently and radically but that the degree of variation and even sense of variation depends on the time scale which we are considering Secondly that this is a most unusual geological period for the Planet Earth we are living in a period of mountain building and glaciations whereas during most of the last 250 million years m y there was little ice and little topography A good view of climate change of the last hundred m y can be gained by looking at the paper of Kellogg We are now in a period of extensive glaciations The previous interval occurred 300 to 250 m y ago when even the Sahara was glaciated Of course it was at that time near the position of the South Pole we know that 300 m y ago the continents had not broken apart and formed one land mass Apparently between 250 and 20 m y ago there was little ice on the Earth even at Antarctica Continental basins were flooded by shallow seas This was the period when plant life and marine life proliferated and when most of our fossil fuels were laid down

Changing the Global Environment Daniel B. Botkin,Margriet F. Caswell,John E. Estes,2013-10-22 Changing the Global Environment Perspectives on Human Involvement focuses on the extent of global environmental changes and the extent to which technology can be employed to improve the global environment This book is divided into three sections Section I sets forth a broad perspective on specific conceptual issues of concern such as the sustainable use of the global ocean deforestation and extinction of species large scale alteration of biological productivity due to transported pollutants and soil degradation and conversion of tropical rainforests The second section discusses technologies of remote sensing computer based data systems and advanced chemical analytical techniques The interactions among social environmental and economic goals and the role that technological advances might play in attaining these goals are deliberated in Section III This publication is valuable to environmentalists and students interested in how technologies can change man s perception of the environment

The Changing Global Environment Neil Roberts,1994 Summaries of research by physical geographers covering themes such as rainforest destruction and remote sensing by satellites The book aims to provide a clear well integrated account of how the processes of environmental change are altering the earth s natural environments

Policy Making in an Era of Global Environmental Change R. E. Munn,J. W. M. La Rivière,N. van Lookeren Campagne,1996-11-18 Thus global change science and policy making are engaged in a process of forming a new partnership that is taking shape as further insights evolve

Managing Information and Communications in a Changing Global Environment Information Resources Management Association. International Conference,1995-01-01 Advances of information and communications technologies have created new forces in managing organizations These forces are leading modern organizations to reassess their current structures to become more effective in the growing global economy This Proceedings is aimed at the challenges involved in effective utilization and management of technologies in contemporary organizations

The Routledge Handbook of Urbanization and Global Environmental Change Karen Seto,William Solecki,Corrie Griffith,2015-12-22 This volume provides a comprehensive overview of the interactions and feedbacks between urbanization and global environmental change A key focus is the examination of how urbanization influences global environmental change and how global environmental change in turn influences urbanization processes It has four thematic foci Theme 1 addresses the pathways through which urbanization drives global environmental change Theme 2 addresses the pathways through which global environmental change affects the urban system Theme 3 addresses the interactions and responses within the urban system in response to global environmental change Theme 4 centers on critical emerging research

Christians, the Care of Creation, and Global Climate Change Lindy Scott,2008-03-01 Christians the Care of Creation and Global Climate Change is a wake up call for Christians and others It is a cogent and persuasive call to love God and our neighbors by caring for creation especially in light of the dramatic climate changes occurring before our eyes This book is not the final word on the subject but it is a sincere invitation to examine the scientific evidence for global warming and to respond with individual and collective faithful actions

Students for Future. The Effects of Participating in a Global Climate Strike on Students' Pro-Environmental Consumer Behaviour Johanna Melsheimer,2019-09-23 Scientific Study from the year 2019 in the subject Social Studies General grade 7 1 language English abstract As climate change is a prominent challenge in today s world a global awareness towards achieving individual environmental change is necessary This social research looks into how participating in climate strikes can lead to adopting a pro environmental consumer behaviour PECB The quantitative analysis measured 105 questionnaires while the qualitative part analysed 12 interviews with students studying in the Netherlands France Belgium Germany and Luxembourg Changes in PECB were discovered by looking at the mechanisms endogenous factors exogenous factors and altruistic values which emerge during climate protests The analysis established a positive relationship between the feeling of belonging to a group of likely minded people and PECB Furthermore an overall positive change in PECB before and after participating in the climate protest However the quantitative results for the relationship in the belief in achieving a change and PECB were inconclusive For the qualitative findings the concept of gaining altruistic values was under represented The concepts of achieving a change and belonging to a group of likely minded people were highlighted by all interviewees Concludingly the participation in strikes only slightly increases PECB as other factors of the person s individual life also affect a change of behaviour
