Behavioural Responses to a Changing World Bob B. M. Wong, Ulrika Candolin, 2025-04-23 For many animals behavioural adjustments represent the first response to human modified conditions By improving reproduction and survival such adjustments can play the lead in maintaining viable populations in the face of rapid environmental change Behavioural responses however can also be maladaptive and reduce individual fitness particularly if favourable reaction norms have not yet evolved because animals are encountering conditions that they have never experienced before Clearly behaviour matters But how can we capitalise on our understanding of animal behaviour to improve conservation and management outcomes Behavioural Responses to a Changing World Challenges and Applications a companion volume to the first edition published in 2012 examines wildlife behavioural responses to human induced environmental change through a translational lens Despite considerable and growing interest in research on the topic the predictive value and practical application of what has been learned remains underappreciated and underutilized in the context of developing real world solutions To redress this the current book builds upon the foundations of the original volume but with a more applied perspective that focuses on highlighting how different forms of environmental challenges from climate change to urbanisation influence animal behaviour and how we can effectively harness knowledge of animal behaviour to effect practical solutions to predicting and mitigating the weighty impacts of a radically changed and changing world

Plant Ecology in a Changing World James R. Ehleringer, Russell K. Monson, 2025-06-30 Today global changes and human activities affect plants within each of the world's ecosystems Plant Ecology in a Changing World provides a foundation for understanding how the changes underway impact structure and function in the world's major biomes while also describing how evolution has resulted in the biochemical physiological structural and life history features that shaped plants and their capacities to persist across widely contrasting environments This textbook is designed for undergraduate students and graduate students as well to serve as a resource for climate change and ecosystem scientists seeking a foundation on the principles of plant ecology and the basis of plant adaptations While many textbooks focus primarily on natural ecosystems Plant Ecology in a Changing World also recognizes the ecological importance of invasive managed and urban ecosystems and of the ways in which ecosystems are already being impacted by both human activities and a warming planet Key features Replete with 450 figures that help to elucidate concepts and charts to clearly present key data Boxes within chapters allow those who wish to delve into more advanced aspects of topics and of those key methodological approaches used to quantify processes Highlights of key plant ecologists and of their contributions Each chapter concludes with a bulleted summary enabling students to recap the key points of the chapter Each chapter comes with both a list of references as well as with suggested readings allowing the student to expand their knowledge on a particular topic Associated with the book is an array of supplementary materials These are available and constantly updated at <http://plantecology.com>

Solutions Jesús Ernesto Arias González, Anastazia T. Banaszak, Iliana B. Baums, Edwin A. Hernandez-Delgado, Carlos Prada, Baruch Rinkevich, Sergio Rossi, 2022-06-14 Educating for Democracy in a Changing World Stephen M. Fain, Judith J. Slater, David M. Callejo-Pérez, 2007 Textbook Death and Religion in a Changing World Kathleen Garces-Foley, 2014-12-18 This comprehensive study of the intersection of death and religion offers a unique look at how religious people approach death in the twenty first century Previous scholarship has largely focused on traditional beliefs and paid little attention to how religious traditions evolve in relation to their changing social context Employing a sociological approach Death and Religion in a Changing World describes how people from a wide variety of faiths draw on and adapt traditional beliefs and practices as they deal with death in modern societies The book includes coverage of newly emerging social and religious phenomena that are only just beginning to be analyzed by religion scholars such as public shrines the role of the media spiritual bereavement groups and the use of the Internet in death practices

Sustainable Forest Management in a Changing World: a European Perspective Peter Spathelf, 2009-12-04 Yet another book on the topic of Sustainable Forest Management can only be justified by new information that is of direct relevance The contents of this volume concentrate on the very latest factors and developments thus hopefully contributing both to the book s attractiveness and to closing gaps in the discipline s database This book is written for researchers in the field of forest management international forestry and climate change related issues legal and policy advisors as well as for managers of private companies who deal with SFM The authors of the various sections are scientists in the field of forestry and other environmental sciences They represent different institutions mainly universities and research agencies in Germany but also high level international institutions in development co operation such as the World Bank FAO and IIASA The scope of the book is to refresh the meanings and perceptions of SFM against the background of the rapid changes in our natural and social environment Climate change and the rapid increase of atmospheric CO concentration is a global process 2 with negative impacts of different kinds among others on natural ecosystems such as forests A crucial issue therefore is how forest management can contribute to forest conservation in light of changing climatic conditions Moreover policy changes such as the introduction of certification schemes and the new emphasis laid on Non Wood Forest Products justify the re evaluation of the role of SFM in delivering ecological goods and services from our forests

The World's Work, 1915 A history of our time Educational Theory in a Changing World Vincent Alan McClelland, 1980 Education and Technological Unemployment Michael A. Peters, Petar Jandrić, Alexander J. Means, 2019-04-29 This book examines the challenge of accelerating automation and argues that countering and adapting to this challenge requires new methodological philosophical scientific sociological economic ethical and political perspectives that fundamentally rethink the categories of work and education What is required is political will and social vision to respond to the question What is the role of education in a digital age characterized by potential mass technological unemployment Today s technologies are beginning to cost more jobs than they create and this trend will continue There have been many proposed solutions to this problem and they invariably involve an educational vision Yet in a world that simply doesn't offer enough work for everyone education is clearly not a panacea for technological unemployment This collection presents responses to this question from a wide spectrum of disciplines including but not limited to education studies philosophy history politics sociology psychology and economics
