Dialogue and Rhetoric Edda Weigand, 2008 The volume deals with the relationship between dialogue and rhetoric The actual state of the art in dialogue analysis is characterized by a tendency to overcome the distinction between competence and performance and to combine components from both sides of the dichotomy in a way which includes rules as well as inferences The same is true of rhetoric the guidelines proposed here no longer state that rationality and persuasion are mutually exclusive but suggest that they interact in what might be called the mixed game The concept of a dialogic rhetoric thus poses the question of how to integrate the different voices Part I of the volume assembles several rhetorical paradigms which are applied to real life performance Part II on rhetoric in the mixed game contains a selection of papers which illustrate the interaction of various components The Round Table discussion in Part III brings proponents of different paradigms face to face with each other and shows how they justify their own positions and present arguments against rival paradigms

The Kenotic Organization Brian E. Ruffner, 2023-01-25 Although organizations frequently proclaim the desire for change renewal and transformation few ever fully embrace those ideas failing to rise above more than mere mediocrity and never realizing even a fraction of their true potential Certainly many pontificate on the nature of organizations as they live and breathe so to speak yet few question how the organization ought to be This ought belies the existential and ethical dimensions of organizing and as such points to a discipline not often associated with the organizational realm theology To this end the concept of the kenotic organization offers a much needed antidote to the syndrome described above Drawing on the divine Trinitarian kenosis observed in the creation event and witnessed in the Incarnation the simultaneous actions of self limiting and pouring out inform the organizational cause and expose a deeply entangled organizational mesh enveloping the entire cosmos which can serve as a catalyst to excite preferred organizational behaviors It is in fact the humility of Trinitarian kenosis the willingness to withdraw but also at once pour out the individual essence that generates the thrust necessary to escape the gravitational pull of convention which typically inhibits organizational flourishing

The Routledge Handbook of Critical Public Relations Jacquie L'Etang, David McKie, Nancy Snow, Jordi Xifra, 2015-08-11 Critical theory has a long history but a relatively recent intersection with public relations This ground breaking collection engages with commonalities and differences in the traditions whilst encouraging plural perspectives in the contemporary public relations field Compiled by a high profile and widely respected team of academics and bringing together other key scholars from this field and beyond this unique international collection marks a major stage in the evolution of critical public relations. It will increasingly influence how critical theory informs public relations and communication. The collection takes stock of the emergence of critical public relations alongside diverse theoretical traditions, critiques and actions, methodologies and future implications. This makes it an essential reference for public relations researchers, educators and students around a world that is becoming more critical in the face of growing inequality and environmental challenges. Dialogue in Organizations M. Reitz, 2015-04-14. In politics, business and society, better leadership and dialogue are seen as antidotes to the paradoxical issues of the modern world. This book illustrates how the compulsion for busyness, the assumptions about who leaders are and the adherence to implicitly held cultural norms threaten the possibility of effective dialogue in organizations.

(Re)presentations and Dialogue François Cooren, Alain Létourneau, 2012. This edited volume proposes key contributions addressing the connections between two important themes: dialogue and representation. These connections were approached or interpreted in three possible ways: 1. Dialogue as representation, 2. Normative perspectives on dialogue representation issues, and 3. Representations of dialogue. The first interpretation, Dialogue as representation, consists of exploring dialogue as an activity where many things, beings or voices can be made present, whether we think in terms of ideologies, cultures, situations, collectives, roles, etc. The second interpretation, Normative perspectives on dialogue representation issues, leads scholars to explore questions of normativity which are often associated with the notion of dialogue when conceived as a morally stronger form of conversation. Finally, the third interpretation, Representations of dialogue, invites us to address methodological questions related to the representation of this type of conversation. Echoing Bakhtin, contributors were invited to explore the polyphonic, heteroglot or dialogic character of any text, discourse or interaction.

Towards Dialogue San van Eersel, Peacebuilding Online Rachel Nolte-Laird, 2021-11-16. This study takes the work of transforming violence and conflict online and offers insight into the practice of dialogue in virtual settings for peacebuilding purposes. In the field of peace and conflict studies and peacebuilding practices, a significant amount of literature has dealt with the theory and practice of dialogue in face-to-face settings. This project is unique as it takes the peacebuilding practice of dialogue and explores it within an online context. The research is framed and analyzed through the dialogue theories of Martin Buber and Paulo Freire. This project is distinct in its exploration of the connection between dialogue encounters and positive peace, the practical linkages of which are often difficult to articulate or identify. As such, this book offers unique contributions to the knowledge and understanding of dialogue-based peacebuilding in online settings and provides an understanding of how dialogue practices enable outcomes within the construct of positive peace. This book is aimed at academics as a presentation of research into a relatively unexplored field of inquiry. However, it is also relevant and applicable for peacebuilding.

practitioners who want to navigate taking their practices into online settings and provide a framework for linking practices to intended positive peace outcomes

Socially Constructing Communication Gloria J. Galanes, Wendy Leeds-Hurwitz, 2009 The idea for this book originated at NCA's Summer Institute Catching Ourselves in the Act A Collaborative Planning Session to Enrich our Discipline through Social Constructionist Approaches The conference provided the opportunity to interact with like minded others to discuss how social construction approaches influence or should influence our work Another goal for the conference and for this book is to promote social construction approaches within the discipline We need to look forward by focusing on how the social construction perspective transforms our own work When we teach how can we best clarify the social construction principles we believe in and how can we convey the passion we feel for this approach How can we insure that our research practices are faithful to constructionist principles What practices can we or must we adopt to remain faithful to these principles Together the chapters in this volume address such questions with the intention of helping us take the next step forward This book extends the conversation about social constructionism approaches and invites others to participate in that conversation
