Changing Inner Mongolia:

Changing Inner Mongolia David Sneath, 2000 Since the Chinese Communists took control of Inner Mongolia very little has been written about the region This book is an attempt to redress the balance It is a study of the effect of decades of social engineering on a Minority Nationality in China David Sneath charts the recent history of the pastoral Mongolians of Inner Mongolia since they became the subjects of the Chinese Communist state and examines the society that has emerged since the abolition of the Communes in the 1980s He explores the history of local economic and political forms to illuminate the transformations and continuities of life in pastoral Mongolian society and offers an account that includes both the swings of national and regional government policy and the experiences of individuals subject to those changes By taking a historical perspective his study reveals underlying modes of symbolism and notions of domestic organization and paternalistic authority that have remained fundamental to pastoralism in Inner Mongolia It suggests an indigenous mechanism for economic inequality and dependency in pastoral society one that has helped to shape the pastoral nomadic sociopolitical order of the past

Studies Of China And Chineseness Since The Cultural Revolution - Volume 2: Micro Intellectual History Through De-central Lenses Chih-yu Shih, Mariko Tanigaki, Tina Clemente, 2023-01-04 Studies of China and Chineseness since the Cultural Revolution Volume 1 Reinterpreting Ideologies and Ideological Reinterpretations How did the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution affect everyone's lives Why did people re negotiate their identities to adopt revolutionary roles and duties How did people who lived with different self understandings and social relations inevitably acquire and practice revolutionary identities each in their own light This book plunges into the contexts of these concerns to seek different relations that reveal the Revolution's different meanings Furthermore this book shows that scholars of the Cultural Revolution encountered emotional and intellectual challenges as they cared about the real people who owned an identity resource that could trigger an imagined thread of solidarity in their minds The authors believe that the Revolution's magnitude and pervasive scope always resulted in individualized engagements that have significant and differing consequences for those struggling in their micro context It has impacted a future with unpredictable collective implications in terms of ethnicity gender memory scholarship or career The Cultural Revolution is therefore an evolving relation beneath the rise of China that will neither fade away nor sanction integrative paths

Contestation and Adaptation Enze Han, 2013-07-23 Contestation and Adaptation unravels the complexities of national identity contestation among various ethnic minority groups in China It focuses on the interactions between domestic and international forces that inform ethnic groups national identity contestation positing a theoretical framework where international factors play a significant role in determining why and when ethnic groups will contest the national identities imposed on them by central governments as part of the nation building process Simmering grievances and occasional outbursts of social unrest among ethnic minority populations in China challenge not only the ruling party's legitimacy and governance but also contemporary Chinese national identity and the territorial integrity of the Chinese state But as Enze Han points out of the fifty five ethnic minority groups in China only the Tibetans and Uyghurs have forcefully contested the idea of a Chinese national identity He argues that whether ethnic groups contest those national identities depends on whether they perceive a better achievable alternative In particular Han argues that ethnic groups with extensive external kinship networks are most likely to perceive a capacity to achieve better circumstances and are therefore more likely to politically mobilize to contest national identity In the absence of such alternatives ethnic groups are more likely to cope with their situation through emigration political ambivalence or assimilation Using this theoretical framework the book compares the way that five major ethnic minority groups in China negotiate their national identities with the Chinese nation state Uyghurs Chinese Koreans Dai Mongols and Tibetans Overall Contestation and Adaptation sheds light on the nation building processes in China over the past six decades and the ways that different groups have resisted or acquiesced in their dealings with the Chinese state and majority Han Chinese society

Sharing Spaces Finn Arne Jørgensen, Dolly Jørgensen, 2024-11-12 Human and animal lives intersect whether through direct physical contact or by inhabiting the same space at a different time Environmental humanities scholars have begun investigating these relationships through the emerging field of multispecies studies building on decades of work in animal history feminist studies and Indigenous epistemologies Contributors to this volume consider the entangled human animal relationships of a complex multispecies world where domesticated animals wild animals and people cross paths creating hybrid naturecultures Technology they argue structures how animals and humans share spaces From clothing to cars to computers technology acts as a mediator and connector of lives across time and space It facilitates ways of looking at measuring moving and killing as well as controlling containing conserving and cooperating with animals Sharing Spaces challenges us to analyze how technology shapes human relationships with the nonhuman world exploring nonhuman animals as kin companions food transgressors entertainment and tools
