All About a Career as a Corrections Officer Peterson's, 2010-09-01 Peterson's Master the Corrections Officer Exam All About a Career as a Corrections Officer provides career information about Corrections Officers along with information about the application and examination process. In addition, there are valuable chapters on job duties, working conditions, salary, training, and promotions, the prison system, looking for jobs, the written and promotion exams, drug testing, and the medical examination, the background investigation, the psychological interview, and the physical fitness test. Master the Corrections Officer Exam All About a Career as a Corrections Officer is a part of Master the Corrections Officer Exam which provides the most comprehensive review available for those interested in working in the prison system, including 6 full-length practice tests with detailed answer explanations, an extensive review of the officer screening process, an overview of the typical officer training process, all new information on job requirements, and expert advice on how to seek and apply for positions in the field.

The Changing Career of the Correctional Officer Don A. Josi, Dale K. Sechrest, 1998-03-10 This is an introductory text on the changing nature of correctional officer careers, focusing on personnel management and organizational issues.

Federal Register, 2012-07 Encyclopedia of Human Services and Diversity Linwood H. Cousins, 2014-09-05
Encyclopedia of Human Services and Diversity is the first encyclopedia to reflect the changes in the mission of human services professionals as they face today's increasingly diverse service population. Diversity encompasses a broad range of human differences, including differences in ability and disability, age, education level, ethnicity, gender, geographic origin, religion, sexual orientation, socioeconomic class, and values. Understanding the needs and problems of Asian Americans, Hispanic Americans, the deaf, the blind, the LGBT community, and many other groups demands an up-to-date and cutting-edge reference. This three-volume encyclopedia provides human services students, professors, librarians, and practitioners the reference information they need to meet the needs of an increasingly diverse population. Features 600 signed entries, organized A to Z across three volumes. Entries authored by key figures in the field conclude with cross-references and further readings. A Reader's Guide groups related articles within broad thematic areas such as aging, community, mental health, family, and child services, substance abuse, etc. A detailed index, the Reader's Guide, and cross-references combine for search and browse in the electronic version. A helpful Resource Guide guides students to classic books, journals, and web sites, and a glossary assists them with the terminology of the field. Available in both print and electronic formats. Encyclopedia of Human Services and Diversity is an ideal reference for students, practitioners, faculty, and librarians. Careers in the Corrections System Daniel E. Hargrove, John C. Glidewell, 1990 If you think your job is hopelessly difficult you may be right Particularly if your job is public administration Those who study or practice public management know full well the difficulties faced by administrators of complex bureaucratic systems What they don't know is why some jobs in the public sector are harder than others and how good managers cope with those jobs Drawing on leadership theory and social psychology Erwin Hargrove and John Glidewell provide the first systematic analysis of the factors that determine the inherent difficulty of public management jobs and of the coping strategies employed by successful managers To test their argument Hargrove and Glidewell focus on those jobs fraught with extreme difficulties impossible jobs What differentiates impossible from possible jobs are 1 the publicly perceived legitimacy of the commissioner's clientele 2 the intensity of the conflict among the agency's constituencies 3 the public's confidence in the authority of the commissioner's profession and 4 the strength of the agency's myth or long term idealistic goal Hargrove and Glidewell flesh out their analysis with six case studies that focus on the roles played by leaders of specific agencies Each essay summarizes the institutional strengths and weaknesses specifies what makes the job impossible and then compares the skills and strategies that incumbents have employed in coping with such jobs Readers will come away with a thorough understanding of the conflicting social psychological and political forces that act on commissioners in impossible jobs
