The Enemy is Within Helen Efthimiades-Keith, 2021-10-01 Efthimiadis Keith addresses questions of the historicity of the book of Judith using a more subjective definition of truth than simple fact or fiction she interprets the text through Jungian methodology as a dream of the unconscious psyche of the Jewish people true in its reflection of their collective identity at the time of the text's composition The author merges Terrence Dawson's literary theory concerning the discernment of the effective protagonist of a narrative with Jungian's method of dream interpretation to analyze the text subjectively from the effective protagonist's point of view The author then extrapolates the book's contents onto a hypothetical historical situation to contextualize the book within the Jewish identity and uses her findings to conduct objective analysis

Marlowe and Shakespeare Robert Sawyer, 2017-08-22 Instead of asserting any alleged rivalry between Marlowe and Shakespeare Sawyer examines the literary reception of the two when the writers are placed in tandem during critical discourse or artistic production Focusing on specific examples from the last 400 years the study begins with Robert Greene's comments in 1592 and ends with the post 9 11 and 7 7 era The study not only looks at literary critics and their assessments but also at playwrights such as Aphra Behn novelists such as Anthony Burgess and late twentieth century movie and theatre directors The work concludes by showing how the most recent outbreak of Marlowe as Shakespeare's ghostwriter accelerates due to a climate of conspiracy including belief echoes which presently permeate our cultural and critical discourse The Reader's Adviser ,1977 The Hebrew Bible in Literary Criticism Alex Preminger,Edward L. Greenstein,1986 Cross-currents of Jungian Thought Donald R. Dyer,1991 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1985 Religion and Psychology Maurice Friedman,1992
