Monoclonal Antibody Therapy of Hematologic Malignancies Bruce D. Cheson, 2001 Biomedical Index to PHS-supported Research: pt. A. Subject access A-H, 1992 Biomedical Index to PHS-supported Research, 1991 A Practical Text-book of Infection, Immunity and Biologic Therapy John Albert Kolmer, 1923 Principles of Cancer Biotherapy Robert K. Oldham, Robert O. Dillman, 2009-08-29 At the time of the first edition of Principles of Cancer Biotherapy in 1987 this book represented the first comprehensive textbook on biological therapy In 1991 when the second edition was published there was still some doubt on the part of many oncologists and cancer researchers as to the therapeutic value of these new approaches By 2003 and the fourth edition it was generally agreed that biopharmaceuticals were producing major opportunities for new cancer therapies Cancer biotherapy has now truly matured into the fourth modality of cancer treatment This fifth revised edition describes the tremendous progress that has been made in recent years using biologicals in cancer treatment This book summarizes an evolving science and a rapidly changing medical practice in biotherapy In this new millennium it is now possible to envision a much more diversified system of cancer research and treatment that will afford greater opportunities for a patient's personalized cancer treatment This was first envisioned in the 1987 initial edition of this textbook and is now a new and popular approach to cancer treatment Some forms of cancer biotherapy use the strategy of tumor stabilization and control through continued biological therapy akin to the use of insulin in the treatment of diabetes This textbook illustrates new methods of thinking and new strategies for control of cancer It is always difficult to move from past dogma to future opportunity but this fifth edition of Principles of Cancer Biotherapy illustrates why it is so important to the patients for researchers and clinicians to explore and quickly apply these new opportunities in cancer biotherapy Oxford Textbook of Clinical Nephrology Volume 3 Alex M. Davison, 2005 Authoritative well written and comprehensive textbook of clinical nephrology combining the clinical aspects of renal disease important for daily clinical practice while giving extensive information about the underlying basic science and current evidence available This new edition highlights the numerous changes in clinical management that have arisen as a result of recently concluded clinical trials and there are now specific formal guidelines for optimal treatment of patients Each section of the textbook has been critically and comprehensively edited under the auspices of one of the leading experts in the field The emphasis throughout is on marrying advances in scientific research with clinical management Where possible treatment algorithms are included to aid patient care Covalently Modified Antigens and Antibodies in Diagnosis and Therapy Gerard A. Quash, John D. Rodwell, 1989 Based on a symposium in Lyon France in June 1989 Eleven papers survey the use of antibodies vaccines and anti idotypes in tumor therapy discuss a variety of immunoconjugates for diagnosis and therapy in which the antibodies are coupled to a range of proteins chemotherapeutic agents and isotypes and explore a series of systems in which antibodies and or antigens are used in in vitro diagnostic or therapeutic procedures Of interest to researchers in a wide range of medical and biological fields Annotation c 2003 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com

Monoclonal Antibody Therapy of Human Cancer Kenneth A. Foon, Alton C. Morgan, 1985-09-30 KENNETH A FOON and ALTON C MORGAN JR Passive immunotherapy using heteroantisera for the treatment of cancer in animals and humans has been studied for over 50 years Attempts have been made to treat animal tumors with sera from immunized syngeneic allogeneic or xenogeneic animals A number of studies of passive immunotherapy using heterologous antisera in humans have also been performed These studies have generally been attempted in patients with large tumor burdens and as would be expected results have been transient at best A wide variety of solid tumors as well as leukemias and lymphomas have been treated with antisera raised in sheep horses rabbits and goats Problems such as anaphylaxis serum sickness and severe cytopenias have been encountered with these antisera There are a number of potential mechanisms by which unconjugated antibodies might be cytotoxic to tumor cells Antibodies bound to the cell surface membrane of tumor cells may lead to cell lysis by complement dependent or antibody dependent cellular cytotoxicity Circulating tumor cells bound by antibody may be more susceptible to phagocytosis by the reticuloendothelial system Antibody bound to the cell surface membrane of tumor cells may enhance immunogenicity of the tumor cell leading to activation of the host's immune system Radiolabeled Monoclonal Antibodies for Imaging and Therapy Suresh C. Srivastava, 1988-09 The advent of hybridoma technology leading to the successful production of monoclonal antibodies against a variety of tumor associated antigens has during the last decade provided a very powerful tool for research and clinical investigations These highly specific reagents have essentially replaced the polyclonal antisera of the earlier days The successful demonstration of the many wide ranging capabilities of the monoclonal antibody technique has already begun to exert an enormous impact on diverse areas of research in basic science and medicine In particular the potential of monoclonal antibodies to serve as carriers for selective targeting of radionuclides to tumors for diagnosis or therapy has stimulated an intense surge of research interest and even revived hopes of realizing Ehrlich's concept of the magic bullet Indeed the technology appears to be on the threshold of a revolution in diagnosing and treating malignant disease Much work remains to be done however and even though the progress has been impressive results to date have shown only moderate success There is no question that the limited success we have achieved thus far is merely a prelude to the many more exciting developments yet to come Therapeutic Notes, 1928 Everyone's Guide to Cancer Therapy Malin Dollinger, Ernest H. Rosenbaum, Greg Cable, 1991 Provides information on how cancer is diagnosed treated and managed day to day Antibody Therapy Paul Imbach, 2018-03-29 This practical manual written by well known experts reviews current indications for the use of IgG concentrates and some other modern immunomodulators and provides fundamental information on present day immunomodulation in patients and mice The book opens by tracing the transition from IgG substitution to IgG immunomodulation and providing expert updates on immunomodulatory indications in autoimmune and inflammatory disorders including hematologic neurologic dermatologic and other diseases Basic aspects of

IgG concentrates including methods of production safety currently available products and mechanisms of action are then discussed An entire chapter is devoted to the different aspects of immunomodulatory IgG treatment in the bleeding disorder immune thrombocytopenia ITP Finally the transition from polyclonal to monoclonal antibody mAb treatment is addressed in detail covering mAb development methods mechanisms of action adverse effects and more Particular attention is paid to the example of anti CD20 B cell antibody
