Memory Traces Laura M. Amrhein, Cynthia Kristan-Graham, 2015-10-28 In Memory Traces art historians and archaeologists come together to examine the nature of sacred space in Mesoamerica Through five well known and important centers of political power and artistic invention in Mesoamerica Tetitla at Teotihuacan Tula Grande the Mound of the Building Columns at El Tajín the House of the Phalli at Chichén Itz and Tonina contributors explore the process of recognizing and defining sacred space how sacred spaces were viewed and used both physically and symbolically and what theoretical approaches are most useful for art historians and archaeologists seeking to understand these places Memory Traces acknowledges that the creation use abandonment and reuse of sacred space has a strongly recursive relation to collective memory and meanings linked to the places in question and reconciles issues of continuity and discontinuity of memory in ancient Mesoamerican sacred spaces It will be of interest to students and scholars of Mesoamerican studies and material culture art historians architectural historians and cultural anthropologists God's Dog: Memories, Confessions, Dreams & Revelations of a Modern Mystic William Schindler, 2016-02-13 This is the extraordinary true tale of a middle class gay American's path to encounters with the Great Mystery that is Goddess Self The way to the Great Unknown was intricately intertwined with his humanity with all its foibles and with human relationships Therefore this story has to include those relationships revealing ultimately how a one's personal identity and relationships become vehicles for enlightenment This inspiring account of struggle travel to exotic lands suffering and transcendence holds out hope for anyone who has ever felt outcaste broken or unworthy demonstrating for our modern times that enlightenment lies within reach of us all The Unconverted Self Jonathan Boyarin, 2009-12-15 Europe's formative encounter with its others is still widely assumed to have come with its discovery of the peoples of the New World But as Jonathan Boyarin argues long before 1492 Christian Europe imagined itself in distinction to the Jewish difference within The presence and image of Jews in Europe afforded the Christian majority a foil against which it could refine and maintain its own identity In fundamental ways this experience along with the ongoing contest between Christianity and Islam shaped the rhetoric attitudes and policies of Christian colonizers in the New World The Unconverted Self proposes that questions of difference inside Christian Europe not only are inseparable from the painful legacy of colonialism but also reveal Christian domination to be a fragile construct Boyarin compares the Christian efforts aimed toward European Jews and toward indigenous peoples of the New World bringing into focus the intersection of colonial expansion with the Inquisition and adding significant nuance to the entire question of the colonial encounter Revealing the crucial tension between the Jews as others within and the Indians as others without The Unconverted Self is a major reassessment of early modern European identity Memory's Orbit Joseph Natoli, 2003-03-27 Memoir meets cultural criticism in this examination of American popular culture at the end of the century New and Selected Poems, 1942-1987 Charles Edward Eaton, 1987 The Aztecs Lucien Biart, John Leslie Garner, 1887 Border Memories Marion Muir Richardson Ryan, 1903 Mexican Memories Bertram Grosvenor Goodhue, 1892 Memories of the War Isaac Ruth Sherwood, 1923 Memories of the Sea Charles Cooper Penrose Fitzgerald, 1913 Re-Imagining Community and Civil Society in Latin America and the Caribbean Roberta Rice, Gordana Yovanovich, 2016-07-15 Latin American and Caribbean communities and civil societies are undergoing a rapid process of transformation Instead of pervasive social atomization political apathy and hollowed out democracies which have become the norm in some parts of the world this region is witnessing an emerging collaboration between community civil society and government that is revitalizing democracy This book argues that a key explanation lies in the powerful and positive relationship between community and civil society that exists in the region The ideas of community and civil society tend to be studied separately as analytically distinct concepts however this volume seeks to explore their potential to work together A unique contribution of the work is the space for dialogue it creates between the social sciences and the humanities Many of the studies included in the volume are based on primary fieldwork and place based case studies Others relate literature music and film to important theoretical works providing a new direction in interdisciplinary studies and highlighting the role that the arts play in community revival and broader processes of social change A truly multi disciplinary book bridging established notions of civil society and community through an authentically interdisciplinary approach to the topic Contemporary Jewish-American Dramatists and Poets Joel Shatzky, Michael Taub, 1999-08-30 Entries summarize the life work and critical reception of contemporary Jewish American dramatists and poets The Aztecs, tr. by J.L.
