

The background of the cover is a detailed landscape painting. It depicts a wide, winding river or stream that flows through a lush green valley. In the distance, there are rolling hills and mountains, some of which are covered in snow or have a light-colored hue. The sky is a pale, hazy blue. The overall style is reminiscent of a classic landscape painting, with visible brushstrokes and a rich color palette.

Aging, Society, and the Life Course, Fourth Edition Leslie A. Morgan, Suzanne Kunkel, 2011-03-15 Doody's Score 91 4 Stars. This book's unfading preoccupation with social context, social processes, and social structures distinguishes itself and greatly contributes to the discourse in gerontology. The Gerontologist: This is a comprehensive textbook for both undergraduate and graduate level courses detailing the impact of societal forces on the aging process. The book focuses on the diversity of the older population, examining it from micro-macro perspectives in order to understand aging and the life course as social phenomena. This latest edition examines significant changes in the field of social gerontology, such as the paradigms of aging and the life course, the baby boomer cohorts as they approach retirement and later life, the growing interest in global aging and civic engagement. This text encourages students to examine aging from personal, familial, community, societal, and global perspectives, including both the positive and negative realities of aging.

Key Features: Provides websites of interest at the end of each chapter; Presents provocative essays on love, sex, music, medicine, and crime to further expand on chapter contents; Provides review questions and key terms as study guides at the end of each chapter.

Aging and the Life Course Jill S. Quadagno, 2008. This groundbreaking text is the first to take a life course perspective, examining the relationship between the quality of one's life in old age and one's experiences, earlier choices, opportunities, and constraints. The text gives students a broad background for understanding current policy debates through a distinctive chapter entitled "Old Age and the Welfare State" (Chapter 11) and through boxed essays in every chapter called "An Issue for Public Policy." Each chapter also includes a box called "In Their Own Words" that allows older people to describe their own experiences In addition coverage of race class gender and culture is integrated throughout and featured in the Diversity in the Aging Experience sections
