fingering of three pitches with a series of exercises to master triadic syntax Part 1 closes with a study of four pitch structures and complete tables that show all possible pitch sets in circular visual notation Part 2 rhythm begins with a complete course in Symmetrical Picking a method based on drum rudiments that builds control in the picking hand through an exhaustive variety of movements The focus of this section is building a strong rhythmic foundation with a focus on efficiency accuracy speed dynamics and groove It is followed by a study of legato playing working with ornaments and slides The study of playing with fingers on multiple strings takes up the remainder of the book This begins with the study of pulse against pulse playing two simultaneous tempos The book concludes with a study of polyrhythm playing one rhythm against another Plain English is used as much as possible to describe theoretical concepts and hundreds of illustrations were made for the book as an aid to those who either don't speak English or prefer to think visually This approach is designed to be inclusive and to promote creative practice The main idea of the book is described in this passage page 154 Even in this small area there is a lot of material potentially a lifetime of study The amount of information can feel overwhelming to students at any level For this reason the book is designed for self directed practice with an emphasis on what the player could do rather than what the player should do The principle is to develop your own learning process rather than following someone else's The ability to make choices is essential in finding a personal approach to the instrument Pick and choose the studies that seem interesting there should be enough variety to accommodate a wide range of personalities If any particular concept or exercise has been useful as the starting point for a new creative direction then the book has done its job Its purpose is not to push any dogma method or style but to open the door to options for guitarists of any background that are looking for new perspectives
