Beginnings Intention And Method:

Beginnings Edward W. Said, 2025-10-21 From one of the world's most beloved and outspoken public intellectuals comes an illuminating book on the nature of criticism. Readers will be surprised, stimulated, instructed, impressed. The New Yorker. What is a beginning? What must one do in order to begin? What is special about beginning as an activity or a moment or a place? So begins Beginnings, a scintillating work of criticism by Edward W. Said, author of Orientalism, The Question of Palestine, and other seminal works, and one of the most lauded public intellectuals of our time. Tracing humankind's diverse understandings of what it means to begin throughout history, Said argues that beginning is itself a method, the first step in the creation of meaning. It's what sparks a break from preexisting tradition and it's what authorizes new texts to be. As ever, Said insists on a criticism that is both humane and socially responsible. Beginnings is about much more than writing; it is about imagination and action, as well as the constraints on freedom and invention that come from achieving human intention. The result is a classic and necessary treatise on the role of the intellectual and the worth of criticism. Beginnings

Edward W. Said, 1985 This reissued classic traces the ramifications and diverse understandings of the concept of beginning in history and offers valuable insights into the role of the intellectual and the goal of criticism. Beginnings Edward W. Said, 1985

Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline. As with any body of scholarship, various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it. Irene Rima Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field. Accessible and jargon-free, the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid, concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years. Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume. Their work is organized into three parts. In Part I, forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of thought and approaches to literature arose. The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address. Part II focuses on individual theorists. It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars, not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I. This second section analyses the individual achievements, as well as the influence of specific scholars, and places them in a larger critical context. Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory. It identifies significant, complex terms, places them in context, and explains their origins and use. Accessibility is a key feature of the work. By avoiding jargon, providing mini-bibliographies, and cross-referencing throughout, Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians, and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture. A Permanent Beginning Yitzhak Lewis, 2020-03-01 Situates a Hasidic master in the context of his time, demonstrating his formative influence on Jewish literary modernity. The Hasidic leader R. Nachman of Braslav (1772-1810) has held a place in the Jewish popular imagination for more than two centuries. Some see him as the self-proclaimed Messiah, others as the forerunner of modern Jewish literature. Existing studies struggle between these dueling readings largely ignoring questions of aesthetics and politics in his work A Permanent Beginning lays out a new paradigm for understanding R Nachman's thought and writing and with them the beginnings of Jewish literary modernity Yitzhak Lewis examines the connections between imperial modernization processes in Eastern Europe at the turn of the eighteenth century and the emergence of modern literature in the storytelling of R Nachman Reading his tales and teachings alongside the social legal and intellectual history of the time the book's guiding question is literary How does R Nachman represent this changing environment in his writing Lewis paints a nuanced and fascinating portrait of a literary thinker and creative genius at the very moment his world was evolving unrecognizably He argues compellingly that R Nachman's narrative response to his changing world was a major point of departure for Jewish literary modernity This is a groundbreaking study There can be no doubt that it will constitute a basic work for understanding the theology and stories of R Nachman modern Judaism and modern literature in general Jonatan Meir author of Literary Hasidism The Life and Works of Michael Levi Rodkinson This book is a rare intellectual achievement Lewis addresses the question of Hasidism's modernity by analyzing key issues in the study of R Nachman such as the question of his Messianity His answers are thought provoking and convincing and his exciting book dramatically extends our understanding of the challenges posed by R Nachman's tales and mystical texts Hannan Hever Yale University

Beginnings Nuffield Mathematics Project, 19?? The Turkish Novel and the Quest for Rationality Ayse Ozge Kocak Hemmat, 2019-02-04 The Turkish Novel and the Quest for Rationality is the first book to contextualize the Turkish novel with regard to the intellectual developments motivating the Turkish modernization project since the 18th century The book provides a dialectical narrative for the emergence and development of the Turkish novel in order to highlight the genre's critical role within the modernization project In doing so it also delineates the changing forms the novel assumes in the Turkish context from a platform for new literature to a manifestation of crisis in the face of totalizing rationality Vis a vis modernization's engagement with rationality The Turkish Novel and the Quest for Rationality reveals unexplored ways of conceptualizing the development of the genre in non western contexts The Cambridge Introduction to Edward Said Conor McCarthy, 2010-07-22 One of the most famous literary critics of the twentieth century Edward Said's work has been hugely influential far beyond academia As a prominent advocate for the Palestinian cause and a noted music critic Said redefined the role of the public intellectual In his books as scholarly as they are readable he challenged conventional critical demarcations between disciplines His major opus Orientalism is a key text in postcolonial studies that continues to influence as well as challenge scholars in the field Conor McCarthy introduces the reader to Said's major works and examines how his work and life were intertwined He explains recurring themes in Said's writings on literature and empire on intellectuals and literary theory on music and on the Israel Palestine conflict This concise informative and clearly written introduction for students beginning to study Said is ideally set up to explain the complexities of his work to new audiences book explores the aftermath of British colonialism on the Indian subcontinent and Sri Lanka including the resulting Diaspora. The essays also examine zones of intersection between theories of postcolonial writing and models of Diaspora and the nation.

Writing and Reading Differently George Douglas Atkins, Michael L. Johnson, 1985 Beginnings, Endings, Beginnings Dino S. Cervigni, 2000 Difficult Beginnings Alison Cornish, 1990 The Death of the Author and Anticolonial Thought Michael R. Griffiths, 2025-03-20. The Death of the Author and Anticolonial Thought promises to transform a decades old debate in literary studies about the relation between structure and agency form and intention by giving a detailed account previously unstudied of the way colonized writers have responded to learned from and critiqued the death of the author postulate declared by Roland Barthes in 1967. The book is a cultural history of these debates with a particular focus on two crucial two key case studies: Martinican poet and thinker douard Glissant and Palestinian literary and cultural critic Edward Said. This book then examines the immediate emergence and intensification of such responses to the postulate of the author's deathly absence from the text in order to suggest that metropolitan literary theory drew both critique and engagement from scholars of black decolonial and Global South background from both before 1967 and Barthes's declaration and in its wake. This book provides a focused account of the early history of the way global literatures have engaged with critiqued and occasionally adopted the lessons and limitations of the poststructuralist critique of that most fetishised and also reviled of figures: the author. Narration, Navigation, and Colonialism Jamal Eddine Benhayoun, 2006. Chapters include History, Politics and Discourse, A Complex Beginning, Discourses of Hybridity, Meanings of Authority, Space as Culture, Culture as Space and Fractured Geographies, Dislocated Geographers. The Eighteenth Century, 1979 Plurality and Individuality Christa Hämmerle, Internationales Forschungszentrum Kulturwissenschaften, 1995 The Reader's Adviser, 1986 The Rackham Journal of the Arts and Humanities, 1984 Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, ... Catalog of Books, 1996 Local Histories Patricia Donahue, Gretchen Flesher Moon, 2007. In Local Histories the contributors seek to challenge the widely held belief that the origin of American composition as a distinguishable discipline can be traced to a small number of elite colleges such as Harvard, Yale and Michigan in the mid to late nineteenth century. Through extensive archival research at liberal arts colleges, normal schools, historically black colleges and junior colleges the contributors ascertain that many of these practices were actually in use prior to this time and were not the sole province of elite universities. Though not discounting the elites influence the findings conclude that composition developed in many locales concurrently. Individual chapters reflect on student responses to curricula, the influence of particular instructors or pedagogies in the context of compositional history and the difficulties inherent in archival research. What emerges is an original and significant study of the developmental diversity within the discipline of composition that opens the door to further examination of local histories as guideposts to the origins of composition studies.
