The Letters of Arturo Toscanini Arturo Toscanini, 2002 A major event in the literature of music the first significant collection of the letters of Arturo Toscanini Toscanini 1867-1957 was one of the most celebrated and influential symphonic and operatic conductors in history With his amazing ear and photographic memory his sense of moral imperative and iron will he raised the standards of orchestras and opera companies to previously undreamed-of heights He conducted the world premieres of Leoncavallo's Pagliacci and Puccini's La bohème The Girl of the Golden West and Turandot His sixty-eight year conducting career began before Verdi had completed Otello and lasted into the era of televised concerts and stereophonic sound He headed such ensembles as La Scala the Metropolitan Opera the New York Philharmonic and the NBC Symphony Orchestra Yet he never wrote a memoir or even essays for publication or granted interviews Now we are brought closer to him than we have ever been in seven hundred letters well over ninety percent of them previously unpublished in any language The letters are vivid and impassioned They reveal a complicated man often angry and unhappy who was also capable of great generosity of spirit self-irony and humor They show the depth of his musical knowledge and insight and shed much light on the musical life of his time in Europe in New York and throughout the world There is fascinating correspondence with his wife and children and with colleagues and friends and he writes as well about his affairs and erotic adventures He expresses particular vehemence when talking about his active opposition to fascism and Nazism Of Mussolini for instance he says Open all the prisons you won't find a delinquent or a criminal who is more of a delinquent more of a criminal than that ignoble animal The Letters of Arturo Toscanini is a revelation of both the maestro and the man With 7 photographs The New Music Review and Church Music Review ,1926 Keep These Letters, Please! Truus de Leur, Henriette Straub, 1998 A selection of 41 letters out of the complete collection which comprises 197 letters and postcards and two hand written poetical texts The most by far are addressed to Hendrik Freijer the administrator of Het concertgebouw N V The letters cover Freijer's tenure from 1905 to 1922 and give an insight into the way in which an institution like the Concertgebouw and its Orchestra operated and into the job of administrator at the time
