Decision For Europe 1st Edition:

Understanding Migrant Decisions Belachew Gebrewold, Tendayi Bloom, 2016-06-10 Examining how changing conditions in the Mediterranean Region have affected the decisions of those considering migrating from Sub Saharan Africa to or through the Region this book represents an important and overdue contribution to international policy making and academic discourse In current discussions relating to this migration phenomenon the complexity of individual decision making is often left unacknowledged so that subsequent policy responses draw upon simplified models In this volume individual decision making takes central stage by bringing together chapters that demonstrate very different types of decision making frameworks In this project it is highlighted that people move for a variety of reasons such as being affected by conflict and insecurity by economic pressures and by desire for other forms of enrichment Throughout the book s contributors find that events in the Mediterranean cannot be considered alone in understanding migration decision making from Sub Saharan Africa but as part of an increasingly complicated global system not encompassed by one simplified theory or by looking at one regional context in isolation Knowing why individual people are moving and how they decide upon which routes to take can help to ensure policy that promotes safer travel options or makes genuine alternatives to migration available A
