Gary Waller,2013-03-12 We had our first conversation about cognition metacognition and reading in September of 1976 Our particular concern was with reading and learning to read and what if anything meta cognition might have to do with it all We didn t really know much about metacognition then of course but then most other people were in the same predicament Some people had been working with interesting approaches and results on metalanguage and reading among them J Downing L Ehri L Gleitman 1 Mattingly and E Ryan and it also was about that time that people were becoming aware of E Markman s first studies of comprehension monitoring Other than that perhaps the most influential item around was the perhaps already classic monograph by Kruetzer Leonard and Flavell on what children know about their own memory Also in the air at that time were things like A Brown s notions about knowing knowing about know ing and knowing how to know D Meichenbaum s ideas about cognitive behavior modification and the work by A Brown and S Smiley on the awareness of important units in text Even though these developments were cited as new and innovative it was not the case that psychologists had never before been of questions They certainly interested in or concerned with metacognitive sorts had as clearly evidenced by the notion of metaplans in Miller Galanter and Pribram s Plans and the Structure of Behavior

Decoding Strategies Siegfried Engelmann,1999 Decoding Strategies Siegfried Engelmann,1988 Decoding Strategies ,1999 Proceedings Tencon ,1987 Black Manhood on the Silent Screen Gerald R. Butters,2002 In early twentieth century motion picture houses offensive stereotypes of African Americans were as predictable as they were prevalent Watermelon eating chicken thievery savages with uncontrollable appetites Sambo and Zip Coon were all representations associated with African American people Most of these caricatures were rendered by whites in blackface Few people realize that from 1915 through 1929 a number of African American film directors worked diligently to counter such racist definitions of black manhood found in films like D W Griffith s The Birth of a Nation the 1915 epic that glorified the Ku Klux Klan In the wake of the film s phenomenal success African American filmmakers sought to defend and redefine black manhood through motion pictures Gerald Butters s comprehensive study of the African American cinematic vision in silent film concentrates on works largely ignored by most contemporary film scholars African American produced and directed films and white independent productions of all black features Using these race movies to explore the construction of masculine identity and the use of race in popular culture he separates cinematic myth from historical reality the myth of the Euro American controlled cinematic portrayal of black men versus the actual black male experience Through intense archival research Butters reconstructs many lost films expanding the discussion of race and representation beyond the debate about good and bad imagery to explore the construction of masculine identity and the use of race as device in the context of Western popular culture He particularly examines the filmmaking of Oscar Micheaux the most prolific and controversial of all African American silent film directors and creator of the recently rediscovered Within Our Gates the legendary film that exposed a virtual litany of white abuses toward blacks Black Manhood on the Silent Screen is unique in that it takes contemporary and original film theory applies it to the distinctive body of African American independent films in the silent era and relates the meaning of these films to larger political social and intellectual events in American society By showing how both white and black men have defined their own sense of manhood through cinema it examines the intersection of race and gender in the movies and offers a deft interweaving of film theory American history and film history Harcourt School Publishers Collections HSP,2000 Decoding Strategies Siegfried Engelmann,Gary Johnson,Wesley Becker,Linda Meyers,Linda Carnine,Julie Becker,Science Research Associates,1978 Decoding Strategies ,1999-01-01 Part of curriculum set for use in remedial teaching of reading Decoding Clausewitz Jon Tetsuro Sumida,2008 A pathbreaking critique of the thought of military studies icon Carl Phillip Gottfried von Clausewitz and his magnum opus On War that illuminates why and how that work should be viewed as much more mature coherent innovative and complete than suggested
