- o Thinking Ahead questions invite the reader to reflect on his/her own experiences as they relate to the material covered in the next chapter. These can be used as discussion points for a class or small group or simply as pre-reading prompts to enhance comprehension.
- o Teachers in Action boxes contain real life narratives from practicing teachers. These cases are designed to expand upon key issues presented in each chapter. Every case is accompanied by the author's personal reflection on the case. These reflections are intended to give the reader an opinion against which he/she can measure his/her own reactions. After each case the reader is prompted to think about the narrative presented and think about the way that his/her reactions compare with those presented by the author.
- o Go There boxes provide links to Web sites that offer additional resources for teachers, lesson plans, and other activities to enhance a social studies classroom.

Phonological Encoding and Monitoring in Normal and Pathological Speech Robert J. Hartsuiker, 2005. This book reports recent research on mechanisms of normal formulation and control in speaking and in language disorders such as stuttering, aphasia, and verbal dyspraxia. The theoretical claim is that such disorders result both from deficits in a component of the language production system and interactions between this component and the system that monitors for errors and undertakes a corrective behaviour. In particular, the book focuses on phonological encoding in speech: the construction of a phonetic plan for utterances; on verbal self-monitoring: checking for correctness and initiating corrective action if necessary; and on interactions between these processes. Bringing together sixteen original chapters by leading international researchers, this volume represents a coherent statement of current thinking in this exciting field. The aim is to show how psycholinguistic models of normal speech processing can be applied to the study of impaired speech production. This book will prove invaluable to any researcher, student, or speech therapist looking to bridge the gap between the latest advances in theory and the implications of these advances for language and speech pathology.
