Laleh Khalili

Colonial Harem:

The Colonial Harem Malek Alloula, 1986 A collection of picture postcards of Algerian women exploited by the French this album illustrates a powerful analysis of the distorting denigrating effects of their presence on Algerian Society

Orientalism's Interlocutors Jill Beaulieu, Mary Roberts, 2002-12-06 A collection of essays that develop ways of doing postcolonial studies in art history

Women in the Middle East Haleh Afshar, 2016-01-21 This book offers both theoretical perspectives and detailed examples which provide the analytical frameworks chosen by the Middle Eastern women themselves to explain the strategies they have chosen for liberation The studies deal with Islam and its impact on personal and public lives of women in the region as well as their political struggles for liberation both internally and internationally

Picturing the Maghreb Mary B. Vogl, 2003 Picturing the Maghreb critiques photographic and verbal representations with a focus on four of the most prominent French language writers of recent years Michel Tournier J M G Le Cl zio Tahar Ben Jelloun and Le la Sebbar Their activist writing reframes a picture of Maghreb produced by two centuries of Orientalist misrepresentation The book explores photography as a metaphor for other sorts of representation and examines the cultural impact of actual photographs

Extremities Darcy Grimaldo Grigsby, 2002-01-01 In the decades following the French Revolution four artists Girodet Gros Gericault and Delacroix painted works in their Parisian studios that vividly expressed violent events in faraway colonial lands This book examines six of these paintings and argues that their disturbing erotic depictions of slavery revolt plague decapitation cannibalism massacre and abduction chart the history of France s empire and colonial politics Darcy Grimaldo Grigsby shows that these paintings about occurrences in the West Indies Syria Egypt Senegal and Ottoman Empire Greece are preoccupied not with mastery and control but with loss degradation and failure and she explains how such representations of crises in the colonies were able to answer the artists longings as well as the needs of the government and the opposition parties at home Empire made painters devoted to the representation of liberty and the new French nation confront liberty s antithesis slavery It also forced them to contend with cultural and racial difference Young male artists responded says Grigsby by translating distant crises into images of challenges to the self making history painting the site where geographic extremities and bodily extremities articulated one another

From Outlaw to Rebel Meryem Belkaïd, 2023-01-31 This book analyzes the rise of socially and politically engaged Algerian documentaries created in the period immediately following the end of the Algerian civil war 1991 1999 It uses case studies to highlight the works of four Algerian filmmakers and devotes a chapter to each Malek Bensma l Hassen Ferhani Djamel Kerkar and Karim Sayad The book makes visible productions that have been overlooked not only in distribution circuits but also within academia and examines the political significance and the esthetic power of some of the most influential Algerian documentaries produced since the 2000s

Atlantic Cross-currents Susan Z. Andrade, 2001 Taken from a poem by Niyi Osundare Atlantic Cross Currents Transatlantiques was the theme of the 1993 meeting of the African Literature Association held in Guadeloupe suggesting the movement of people languages cultures and ideas The papers included in this volume are divided into three clusters the first focusing on forms of linguistic communication and literary genres the second on the construction of gender memory history and revolt against patriarchy and the third on political change and nation building Photography and the Body in Nineteenth-century France Anne E. Linton, Raisa Rexer, 2021-01-01 The first Yale French Studies issue on photography examining French photography's place in art identity and society through a lens of diversity and interdisciplinary investigation In its first issue on photography this volume of Yale French Studies presents multiple avenues of interdisciplinary investigation designed to intersect and open up new areas of inquiry in the twenty first century These intersections push beyond traditional geographic and gender boundaries exploring women's photography new cultural contexts trans orientalism and minority and marginalized bodies As they do so they ask us to reconsider the way that we conceive of photography's place in the past and in our lives today After Orientalism Inge E. Boer, 2003 How does Edward Said's Orientalism speak to us today What relevance did and does it have politically and intellectually How and in what modes does Orientalism engage with new intersecting fields of inquiry At the occasion of the twenty fifth anniversary of Orientalism these questions shape the essays collected in the present volume The after of the title does not only guide the contributions in a look on past discussions but specifically points at future research as well Orientalism's critical entanglements are thus connected to productive looks these productive looks make us read differently but only after we recognize our struggle with the dominant notions that we live by that divide and unite us More specifically this volume addresses three fields of research enabling productive looks visual culture the body sexuality and the performative and national identities modernity and gender All articles weaving delicate new analytical and theoretical textures maintain vital links with at least two of the fields mentioned Orientalism's role as a cultural catalyst is gauged in the analysis of materials such as Iranian film 16th and 17th century Venetian representations of the Turk Barthes take on Japanese culture modern Arab travel narratives Palestinian popular culture photography on and of the Maghreb Japanese queer and gay culture the 19th century Illustrated London News theories on migration and exile postcolonial cinema and Hanan al Shaykh's and Mai Ghousseub's writing on civil war in Lebanon Authors include Karina Eileraas Belgin Turan zkaya Joshua Paul Dale John Potvin Mark McLelland Tina Sherwell Nasrin Rahimieh Stephen Morton Anastasia Vallasopoulos Suha Kudsieh and Kate McInturff Veil Fadwa El Guindi, 1999-08 This book overturns Western notions of the veil as a symbol of women's oppression in Islamic societies The author reveals how the veil which has enjoyed a resurgence in popularity since the 1970s de marginalizes women in society and is an expression of liberation from colonial legacies as well as a symbol of resistance She also shows how the veil has multiple and nuanced meanings which extend far beyond the narrow view that it is merely a special form of women's clothing Kronos, 2001 Boundaries Jenni Ramone, Gemma Twitchen, 2007 Boundaries is a collection of work offering creative and critical responses to methods of making breaking and negotiating boundaries The concern of this book is not simply to address the theme of boundaries we also hope to breach the boundaries surrounding the usual ways that such a theme would ordinarily be debated As such this collection includes papers from both arts and science disciplines including literary theatrical historical linguistic educational travel writing and geographical perspectives from academics postgraduate research students postgraduate creative writers and creative writers without institutional affiliation The book is interdisciplinary in its approach and boundary crossing in its presentation instead of organising the collection in sections of papers according to whether they are predominantly creative or critical in approach the papers are presented together and are organised in three sections according to the way that those papers approach the boundary that they perceive whether that boundary is being made negotiated or broken In addition to the main papers in the three sections the collection is framed by interviews with the plenary speakers who were invited to the conference Adam Roberts and Hanan Al Shaykh These are writers whose works repeatedly deal with boundaries of form genre and audience and the interviews included here start to explore the range of boundaries existing in their work and in their lives as writers The format of their contribution to this book allows another boundary to be crossed by including formal structured interviews as another medium of developing the debate Taking the principle that the idea of the boundary is in fact and in imagination boundless Jenni Ramone and Gemma Twitchen gather together in Boundaries sixteen texts that stage in adventurous and provocative ways the endless reconceptualisation of this most enigmatic of concepts Boundaries is at once a startling reassessment and necessary reorientation around its subject in which critical acuity and creative panache cross and recross the borders of imaginative space To say that this is a boundary breaking collection that frontiers have been transgressed limits erased and hitherto invisible liminal territories mapped is only to draw a line underneath the limitless inventiveness of the transgressive and translative interventions of this volume The reader of Boundaries will find herself bound in a nutshell that makes her a ruler of infinite space Ramone and Twitchen are to be applauded for redrawing the map and erasing the borders between the critical the creative and the cultural with such passion and precision Julian Wolfreys author of Writing London Inventions of the City oeMake break negotiate or if you will here are three impossible things to do with conceptual boundaries and all before breakfast or at least middle age so say the exciting collective of young scholars critics and writers who come together here The result is much brilliant making breaking and negotiating of all sorts of boundaries but above all the boundary between the critical and the creative Nothing could be more timely or important John Schad Professor of Modern Literature University of Lancaster Paralyses John Bruce Culbert,1999 Politics of the Modern Arab World Laleh Khalili,2009 This four volume collection of cutting edge and canonical scholarship counters the oft cited opinion that studies of Middle Eastern politics are devoid of social scientific theory and method by providing an overview of the state of the scholarship in the field innovations therein and the debates that have advanced knowledge in the field The collection covers the Arab world from Morocco to the borders of Iran with the focus primarily on the twentieth century and especially the post Second World War era By choosing a wide array of authors many of whom are from the region or from the non Anglophone world the full breadth of worldwide scholarship on the modern Arab world is on display The collection defines politics broadly in line with the most innovative current works in the field of political studies to include not only politics at the state level but also the public social and popular domains that define and shape and are in turn defined and shaped by politics Stanford

Literature Review ,1993 Science Illustrated Jennifer Tucker,1996 Research in African Literatures ,1995

Nomadic Voices of Exile Valérie Orlando,1999 Nomadic Voices of Exile examines the effects of postmodern sentiment on perceptions of feminine identity since the end of the French colonial era The authors discussed here both those who reside in the Maghreb and those who have had to seek asylum in France find themselves at the intersection of French and North African viewpoints exposing a complicated world that must be negotiated and redefined In looking at authors whose writings extend beyond a gender based dialogue to include other issues such as race politics religion and history Valerie Orlando explores the rich and changing landscape of the literature and the culture addresses the stereotypes that have defined the past and navigates the space of the exiled a space previously at the peripheries of Western discourse Western Women and Imperialism Nupur Chaudhuri,Margaret Strobel,1992 Explores what Western women did thought and felt about the colonies in Africa and India areas that have been presented both at the time and in subsequent scholarship as no place for a white woman This volume analyzes Western women s complicity in as well as their resistance to the cultural values dominant during an imperialist era Journal of Dramatic Theory and Criticism ,2008
