ECOOP '93 - Object-Oriented Programming Oscar M. Nierstrasz, 2003-05-16 It is now more than twenty five years since object oriented programming was invented actually more than thirty years since work on Simula started but by all accounts it would appear as if object oriented technology has only been discovered in the past ten years When the first European Conference on Object Oriented Programming was held in Paris in 1987 I think it was generally assumed that Object Oriented Programming like Structured Programming would quickly enter the vernacular and that a conference on the subject would rapidly become superfluous On the contrary the range and impact of object oriented approaches and methods continues to expand and spite the inevitable oversell and hype object oriented technology has reached a level of scientific maturity that few could have foreseen ten years ago Object oriented technology also cuts across scientific cultural boundaries like perhaps no other field of computer science as object oriented concepts can be applied to virtually all the other areas and affect virtually all aspects of the software life cycle So in retrospect emphasizing just Programming in the name of the conference was perhaps somewhat short sighted but at least the acronym is pronounceable and easy to remember This year's ECOOP attracted 146 submissions from around the world making the selection process even tougher than usual The selected papers range in topic from programming language and database issues to analysis and design and reuse and from experience reports to theoretical contributions

The Ghost of One's Self Paul Meehan, 2017-09-19 For millennia people have held folk beliefs about the existence of the doppelgänger double walker in German a look alike second self that is often the antithesis of one's identity and is usually considered an omen of misfortune or death The theme of the double has inspired works by E T A Hoffmann Poe de Maupassant Dostoevsky and others and has been the basis for many classic mystery horror and science fiction movies This critical survey examines the double in more than 100 films by such acclaimed directors as Alfred Hitchcock Mario Bava Roger Corman David Cronenberg George Romero Fritz Lang James Cameron Robert Siodmak Don Siegel John Frankenheimer Terry Gilliam Brian De Palma and Roman Polanski

Naturalizing Phenomenology Jean Petitot, 1999 This ambitious work aims to shed new light on the relations between Husserlian phenomenology and the present day efforts toward a scientific theory of cognition with its complex structure of disciplines levels of explanation and conflicting hypotheses The book's primary goal is not to present a new exegesis of Husserl's writings although it does not dismiss the importance of such interpretive and critical work Rather the contributors assess the extent to which the kind of phenomenological investigation Husserl initiated favors the construction of a scientific theory of cognition particularly in contributing to specific contemporary theories either by complementing or by questioning them What clearly emerges is that Husserlian phenomenology cannot become instrumental in developing cognitive science without undergoing a substantial transformation Therefore the central concern of this book is not only the progress of contemporary theories of cognition but also the reorientation of Husserlian phenomenology Because a single volume could never encompass the numerous facets of this dual aim the contributors focus on the issue of naturalization This perspective is far reaching enough to allow for the coverage of a great variety of topics ranging from general structures of intentionality to the nature of the founding epistemological and ontological principles of cognitive science to analyses of temporality and perception and the mathematical modeling of their phenomenological description This book then is a collective reflection on the possibility of utilizing a naturalized Husserlian phenomenology to contribute to a scientific theory of cognition that fills the explanatory gap between the phenomenological mind and brain
