Contemporary Artists Working Outside the City Sarah Lowndes, 2018-04-17 This book reflects on the motivations of creative practitioners who have moved out of cities from the mid 1960s onwards to establish creative homesteads The book focuses on desert exile painter Agnes Martin radical filmmaker and gardener Derek Jarman and iconoclastic conceptual artist Chris Burden detailing their connections to the cities they had left behind New York London Los Angeles Sarah Lowndes also examines how the rise of digital technologies has made it more possible for artists to live and work outside the major art centers especially given the rising cost of living in London Berlin and New York focusing on three peripheral creative centers the seaside town of Hastings England the mid-sized metro of Leipzig Germany and post industrial Detroit USA Museums and Public Art? Cher Krause Knight, Harriet F. Senie, 2018-06-11 While many museums have ignored public art as a distinct arena of art production and display others have either grudgingly or enthusiastically embraced it Some institutions have partnered with public art agencies to expand the scope of special exhibitions other museums have attempted to establish in house public art programs This is the first book to contextualize the collaborations between museums and public art through a range of essays marked by their coherence of topical focus written by leading and emerging scholars and artists Organized into three sections it represents a major contribution to the field of art history in general and to those of public art and museum studies in particular It includes essays by art historians critics curators arts administrators and artists all of whom help to finally codify the largely unwritten history of how museums and public art have and continue to intersect Key questions are both addressed and offered as topics for further discussion Who originates such public art initiatives funds them and most importantly establishes the philosophy behind them Is the efficacy of these initiatives evaluated in the same way as other museum exhibitions and programs Can public art ever be a permanent feature in any museum And finally are the museum and public art ultimately at odds or able to mutually benefit one another Chris Burden, February 18, 1976 Chris Burden, 1976 Feast of Excess George Cotkin, 2015-11-13 Feast of Excess is an engaging and accessible portrait of The New Sensibility as it was named by Susan Sontag in 1965 The New Sensibility sought to push culture in extreme directions either towards stark minimalism or gaudy maximalism Through vignette profiles of prominent figures John Cage Patricia Highsmith Allen Ginsberg Andy Warhol Anne Sexton John Coltrane Bob Dylan Erica Jong and Thomas Pynchon to name a few George Cotkin presents their bold headline grabbing performances and places them within the historical moment Chris Burden, Chris Burden : album [1971-1995] Chris Burden, 1995 Chris Burden Chris Burden, Zwirner & Wirth (N.Y.), 2004 Chris Burden Chris Burden, Peter Noever, 1996 Burden has a love hate relationship with the machine Suspended from the ceiling of the gallery or presented in glorious isolation the toy like machine becomes an object of fear and worship however ironically a mysterious idol to be propitiated and venerated even if it no longer works Thus art makes the machine benign by turning into a strange toy It masters the machine in a playful Machiavellian act of homage to it Burden implicitly sets the cunning of the artist against the engineer who masterminded the machine implying that the artist can magically undo the human damage the latter unwittingly did with his machine Chris Burden Chris Burden, Charles Wylie, 2001 Chris Burden Chris Burden, Andrea Kirsh, Lowe Art Museum, Andrea Miller-Keller, Kevin Starr, 1985 The Burden of the Individual Jessica Jones, 2002
