Defending Amer:

Defending America James M. Lindsay, Michael E. O'Hanlon, 2004-05-13 Arms control and missile defense are once again at the forefront of the American national security agenda Not surprisingly the debate has broken down along well worn lines Arms control advocates dismiss the idea of missile defense as a dangerous and costly folly Missile defense advocates argue that the U S should move aggressively to defend itself against missile attack With clear and lively prose free of partisan rhetoric Defending America provides reliable factual analysis of the missile defense debate Written for a general audience it assesses the current and likely future missile threat to the United States examines relevant technologies and suggests how America's friends and foes would react to a decision to build a national missile defense Lindsay and O Hanlon reject calls for large scale systems as well as proposals to do nothing instead arguing for a limited national missile defense

Hating America Barry M. Rubin, Judith Colp Rubin, 2004 Reviled as an imperialist power an exporter of destructive capitalism an arrogant crusader against Islam and a rapacious over consumer casually destroying the planet it seems that the United States of America has rarely been less esteemed in the eyes of the world In such an environment one can easily overlook the fact that people from other countries have in fact been hating America for centuries Barry Rubin and Judith Colp Rubin here draw on sources from a wide range of countries to track the entire trajectory of anti Americanism With this powerful work the Rubins trace the paradox that is America a country that is both the most reviled and most envied land on earth In the end they demonstrate anti Americanism has often been a visceral response to the very idea as well as both the ideals and policies of America itself its aggressive innovation its self confidence and the challenge it poses to alternative ideologies
