Burning Bones:

Death and Burial within the Ancient Levant (4500-550 BCE) Jennie Bradbury,2025-03-28 This book offers a comprehensive survey of burial practices in the ancient Levant and challenges some of the assumptions behind previous attempts to find a normative burial practice Exploring the dazzling variety of ways in which the living deal with the dead this book utilises big data projects and legacy data to highlight the sheer diversity of burial practices in the ancient Levant Theorizing that some types of burial are significantly underrepresented this volume argues for the necessity of analysing both the existing and non existing data at multiple scales of analysis Thus rather than attempting to identify a normative or typical burial the volume highlights the multitude of ways in which the living approached and interacted with the dead across the ancient Levant from the Late Chalcolithic to the Iron Age fifth to first millennia BCE In doing so it acknowledges and foregrounds variability not only in terms of so called atypicality but also in terms of burials and practices that have been mistakenly lumped together in the drive to produce narratives of similarity and normative behaviour This volume also explores some of the broader patterns and temporal spatial shifts that shed light on wider changes in the ways in which humans perceive d of the dead and themselves the living over time While predominantly focused on the modern regions of Israel Jordan Lebanon Palestine and Syria this book also engages with these broader themes across Western Asia and the Mediterranean adopting an interdisciplinary and cross cultural approach to understanding temporal and spatial variability This book is of relevance for students and researchers of Ancient Western Asia as well as those of the archaeology of death and burial The Megaliths of Vera Island in the Southern Urals Stanislav Grigoriev,Yulia Vasina,2019-07-11 The largest and brightest megalithic complex in Russia s Ural Mountains is located on Vera Island represented by three chambered megaliths and sanctuaries of the Eneolithic period mid 4th 3rd millennium BC The oldest samples of stone sculpture in the Urals have been revealed within this complex Warriors and other Men Lisbeth Skogstrand,2016-07-31 This book questions whether androcentric archaeology has taught us anything about prehistoric men and their masculinities Hazleton North Alan Saville,2013-01-15 Hazleton North is an Early Neolithic chambered long cairn of the Cotswold Severn group which was selected for total excavation between 1979 and 1982 after survey showed continued damage from ploughing This trapezoidal long cairn is an example of the laterally chambered type of tomb with two very similar L shaped chambered areas near its centre entered from opposite sides of the monument Particular attention is given to two aspects which make Hazleton North of outstanding importance for the study of Neolithic chambered cairns in Britain the details of the cairn construction and the burial remains The account is supported by a full range of specialist studies including analysis of the artefacts human and animal bones plant and molluscan remains soils geology and numerous radiocarbon samples and is concluded by a discussion of the results of the excavation and its significance for the study of Cotswold Severn cairns and the earlier Neolithic of the region Temples and Temple-service in Ancient Israel Menahem Haran,1985 This milestone study is a thorough examination of the various cultic and social phenomena connected with the temple activities connected with the temple s inner sphere and belonging to the priestly circle The book also seeks to demonstrate the antiquity and the historical timing of the literary crystallization of the priestly material found in the Pentateuch Contents Prologue The Israelite Temples Temples and Open Sacred Places The Priesthood and the Tribe of Levi The Aaronites and the Rest of the Levitical Tribe The Distribution of the Levitical Tribe The Centralizations of the Cult The Priestly Image of the Tabernacle Grades of Sanctity in the Tabernacle Temple and Tabernacle The Ritual Complex Performed Inside the Temple Incense of the Court and of the Temple Interior The Symbols of the Inner Sanctum The Non Priestly Image of the Tent of Mo ed The Emptying of the Inner Sanctum Pilgrim Feasts and Family Festivals and The Passover Sacrifice Biosphere to Lithosphere Terry O'Connor,2016-09-12 Taphonomic studies are a major methodological advance the effects of which have been felt throughout archaeology Zooarchaeologists and archaeobotanists were the first to realise how vital it was to study the entire process of how food enters the archaeological record and taphonomy brought to a close the era when the study of animal bones and plant remains from archaeological sites were regarded mainly as environmental indicators This volume is indicative of recent developments in taphonomic studies hugely diverse research areas are being explored many of which would have been totally unforeseeable only a quarter of a century ago Diversity and Complexity in Prehistoric Maritime Societies Bruce J. Bourque,2007-09-04 New England archaeology has not always been everyone s cup of tea only late in the Golden of nineteenth century archaeology as archaeology s focus turned westward did a few pioneers look northward as well causing a brief flurry of investigation and excavation Between 1892 and 1894 Charles C Willoughby did some exemplary excavations at three small burial sites in Bucksport Orland and Ellsworth Maine and made some models of that activity for exhibition at the Chicago World s Fair These activities were encouraged by E Putnam director of the Harvard Peabody Museum and head of anthropology at the Columbian Exposition Even earlier another director of the Peabody Jeffries Wyman spawned some real interest in the shellheaps of the Maine coast but that did not last very long Twentieth century New England archaeology specifically in Maine was for its first fifty years rather low key too with short lived but important activity by Arlo and Oric a Bates Harvard student prior to World War Later I another Massachusetts institution the Peabody Foundation at Andover took some minor but responsible steps toward further understanding of the area s prehistoric past Forty years' researches in British and Saxon burial mounds of East Yorkshire, including Romano-British discoveries, and a description of the ancient entrenchment of a section of the Yorkshire wolds John Robert Mortimer,1905 Behaviour Behind Bones Sharyn Jones O'Day,Wim Van Neer,Anton Ervynck,2003-12-01 This book is the first in a series of volumes which form the published proceedings of the 9th meeting of the International Council of Archaeozoology ICAZ held in Durham in 2002 The 35 papers present a series of case studies from around the world They stretch beyond the standard zooarchaeological topics of economy and ecology and consider how zooarchaeological research can contribute to our understanding of human behaviour and social systems The volume is divided into two parts Part 1 Beyond Calories focuses on the zooarchaeology of ritual and religion Contributors discuss ways to approach questions of ritual and religion through the faunal record and consider how material culture depicting and or associated with animals can provides clues about ideology religious practices and the role of animals within spiritual systems Part 2 Equations for Inequality looks at questions of identity status and other forms of social differentiation in former human societies Contributors discuss how differences in food consumption nutrition and food procurement strategies can be related to various forms of social differentiation among individuals and groups   Forty Years' Researches in British & Saxon Burial Mounds of East Yorkshire J.
