Between Equalization And Marginalization:

Between Equalization and Marginalization Hans-Peter Blossfeld, Catherine Hakim, 1997 Careers of Couples in Contemporary Society : From Male Breadwinner to Dual-Earner Families Hans-Peter Blossfeld, Sonja Drobnic, 2001-10-04 This is the first systematic international comparative study of the transformation of couples careers in modern societies The countries included are Germany the Netherlands the Flemish part of Belgium Italy Spain Great Britain the United States Sweden Denmark Poland Hungary and China Using longitudinal data this book explores what has and what has not changed for couples in various countries due to women s greater involvement in paid employment It provides evidence that despite substantial improvement in women s educational attainment and career opportunities in all the countries studied dimensions of role specialization in dual earner couples have not undergone transformation to the same extent Gender role change within the family has generally been asymmetric so that housework and childcare primarily remain women s work There are however also significant institutional differences among modern societies which determine a country s timing speed and pattern of change from the traditional male breadwinner to the dual earner family model In particular the impact of males resources on their female partners employment careers is dependent on the welfare state regime In conservative and Mediterranean welfare state regimes women s paid employment is negatively correlated with the occupational position of their husbands In liberal welfare state regimes no impact of husbands resources on their wives labour force participation could be detected In the social democratic welfare state regime and generally in former socialist countries husbands resources have a positive effect on their wives employment so that occupational resources cumulate in dual earner families

Women's Employment in a Comparative Perspective Liset Van Dijk, Tanja Van Der Lippe, These comparative studies by internationally known scholars in the United States Hungary Germany and the Netherlands provide a cross national examination of substantially differing circumstances in hours earnings job level childcare availability parental leave and the like of women s employment The book s dual focus on micro and macro approaches clarifies the extent to which these variances can be ascribed to differences in the institutional context of employment or to the individual characteristics of female employees It thereby provides a valuable contribution both to gender studies and to studies on the sociology of work Women s employment changed dramatically during the second half of the twentieth century Countries in the northern hemisphere have faced similar trends in labor and employment yet there are still many contrasts between them when it comes to women s work In this volume women s employment is studied in different institutional structural and social settings with the intention of exploring the causes of the differences and similarities in women s employment in different countries and at different times Three perspectives are used the macro approach which provides a thorough and focused understanding of the influence of the institutional context on women s work the micro approach which gives insight into the employment behavior of individual women who live in the same social or institutional context and the macro micro approach which makes clear the relative importance to women's work of both individual characteristics and institutional context. While a good deal of information is available on women's employment, a cross-national comparison over time has been lacking. This book fills that all important niche. Women's Employment in a Comparative Perspective thus has a special relevance for economists as well as sociologists and social work specialists. Tanja Van der Lippe is assistant professor of sociology at the Research School ICS of Utrecht University, the Netherlands. Liset Van Dijk is senior researcher at the Netherlands Institute for Health Services Research, Nivel.

Women's employment is an area of considerable interest both from the point of view of equal opportunities and of economic competitiveness. This book brings together the latest research on a series of key topics in the field of women's employment.

Reinventing Gender Eva Kolinsky, Hildegard Maria Nickel, 2003
Since the unification of the DDR and the GDR, women living in the former East Germany have lost many of the advantages that came with a planned economy. This collection of essays examines the reinvented meaning of gender and the experience of East German women since unification.

Gender And Work In Today's World Nancy Sacks, Catherine Marrone, 2009-04-27
Nancy Sacks and Catherine Marrone have collected the classic and current readings that reflect the changing realities of gender and work in modern society. Promoting gender equality through balanced analysis of the sexes, Gender and Work in Today's World: A Reader explores the experiences of both men and women in the work force. The editors present a well-balanced blend of academic articles on gender and work topics and provide students with brief but pedagogically useful introductions to each section in the text. Special sections include gender non-traditional jobs (i.e. men as nurses and women in the police force), non-traditional work structures (i.e. part-time, temporary, and odd-hour work), work over the life course, and sexual harassment.

Old Challenges, New Strategies Leng Leng Thang, Wei Hsin Yu, 2004-04-01
The essays in this volume explore women's working and family lives in contemporary East and Southeast Asia, focusing on conflict between family and work roles, structural obstacles in the workplace, and the impact of state policies on women's well-being. It also discusses strategies that women employ in response to structural constraints provided in the context. This volume covers a particularly wide range of societies, some of which were rarely studied in contemporary Asia. By comparing these ten Asian economies that are at different stages of economic development, the volume demonstrates the way in which gender relations transform in the course of development. The book is particularly important for sociologists and anthropologists who are interested in gender and economic development.
