Burning Moon:

Burning Moon Aron Spilken, Ed O'Leary, 1978 In the African-American Grain John F. Callahan, 2001 In the African American Grain is a powerful exploration of the impact of African American oral storytelling techniques on modern and contemporary fiction Reading literature in the call and response tradition John F Callahan shows how African American writers including Charles Chesnutt Jean Toomer Zora Neale Hurston Ralph Ellison Ernest Gaines and Alice Walker have used the forms and forces of this uniquely participatory discourse to establish not only a potential relationship between storyteller and audience but also a potential for change In a new preface Callahan comments on how the tradition of call and response has continued to develop among African American writers as well as writers of other backgrounds Everlasting Divine Emperor Bei JiHai, 2019-11-12 When Lu Yang returned to the world that he lived in for many years he unexpectedly discovered that the time was fixed at three days before he disappeared Back then Lu Yang had tried to learn literature but failed to do so He could only be mocked by his clansmen as trash if he had no cultivation He was helpless to do anything about it In the past his mother had been neglected because of her birth so she had to wash her face with tears all day long Back then he had suffered all sorts of humiliation and vowed to become stronger However under the manipulation of fate there was nothing he could do about it Now that he had returned from the Asura Realm Lu Yang wanted to change everything He wanted to make heaven and earth submit to him Faulkner and Race Doreen Fowler, Ann J. Abadie, 2007-06 The essays in this volume address William Faulkner and the issue of race Faulkner resolutely has probed the deeply repressed psychological dimensions of race asking in novel after novel the perplexing question what does blackness signify in a predominantly white society However Faulkner's public statements on the subject of race have sometimes seemed less than fully enlightened and some of his black characters especially in the early fiction seem to conform to white stereotypical notions of what black men and women are like These essays originally presented by Faulkner scholars black and white male and female at the 1986 Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha Conference the thirteenth in a series of conferences held on the Oxford campus of the University of Mississippi explore the relationship between Faulkner and race With essays by Eric J Sundquist Craig Werner Blyden Jackson Thadious Davis Pamela J Rhodes Walter Taylor Noel Polk James A Snead Philip M Weinstein Lothar Houmann Inghausen Frederick R Karl Hoke Perkins Sergei Chakovsky Michael Grimwood Karl F Zender
