Criminal Justice In Post Mao China Analysis And Documents:

Criminal Justice in Post-Mao China Shao-chuan Leng, Hungdah Chiu, 1985-06-30 The post Mao commitment to modernization coupled with a general revulsion against the lawlessness of the Cultural Revolution has led to a significant law reform movement in the People's Republic of China. China's current leadership seeks to restore order and morale to attract domestic support and external assistance for its modernization program and to provide a secure, orderly environment for economic development. It has taken a number of steps to strengthen its laws and judicial system among which are the PRC's first substantive and procedural criminal codes. This is the first book-length study of the most important area of Chinese law: the development, organization, and functioning of the criminal justice system in China today. It examines both the formal aspects of the criminal justice system such as the court, the procuracy, lawyers, and criminal procedure and the extrajudicial organs and sanctions that play important roles in the Chinese system. Based on published Chinese materials and personal interviews, the book is essential reading for persons interested in human rights and laws in China as well as for those concerned with China's political system and economic development. The inclusion of selected documents and an extensive bibliography further enhance the value of the book.

Studies in Earlier Old English Prose Paul E. Szarmach, 1985-10-01 Old English prose before the late tenth century is examined in this collection of hitherto unpublished essays. Part I of the collection contains six studies of Alfredian prose: the Soliloquies, the Pastoral Care, and Consolation of Philosophy, all of which are translations traditionally associated with King Alfred.
