Artificial Animals for Computer Animation Xiaoyuan Tu, 2003-06-26 After nearly half a century of research the Holy Grail of the field of artificial intelligence AI remains a comprehensive computational model capable of emulating the marvelous abilities of animals including locomotion perception behavior manipulation learning and cognition The comprehensive modeling of higher animals humans and other primates remains elusive However the research documented in this monograph achieves nothing less than a functional computer model of certain species of lower animals that are by no means trivial in their complexity Reported herein is the 1996 ACM Doctoral Dissertation Award winning work of Xiaoyuan Tu which she carried out in the Department of Computer Science at the University of Toronto Tu presents artificial animals a remarkable computational model of familiar marine animals in their natural habitat Originally conceived in the context of computer graphics Tu's is to date the only PhD dissertation from this major sub-field of computer science and the only thesis from a Canadian university to win the coveted ACM award

Perspectives on Human-animal Communication Emily Plec, 2013 Despite its inherent interdisciplinarity the Communication discipline has remained an almost entirely anthropocentric enterprise This book represents early and prominent forays into the subject of human animal communication from a Communication Studies perspective an effort that brings a discipline too long defined by that fallacy of division human or nonhuman into conversation with animal studies biosemiotics and environmental communication as well as other recent intellectual and activist movements for reconceptualizing relationships and interactions in the biosphere This book is a much needed point of entry for future scholarship on animal human communication as well as the whole range of communication possibilities among the more than human world It offers a groundbreaking transformation of higher education by charting new directions for communication research policy formation and personal and professional practices involving animals

The Disneyfication of Animals Rebecca Rose Stanton, 2020-09-17 This book critically examines how Walt Disney Animation Studios has depicted and sometimes failed to depict different forms of harming and objectifying non human animals in their films Each chapter addresses a different form of animal harm and objectification through the theories of speciesism romanticism and the collapse of compassion effect from farming hunting and fishing to clothing work and entertainment Stanton lucidly presents the dichotomy between depictions of higher order anthropomorphised and neotonised animal characters and that of lower order species showing furthermore how these depictions are closely linked to changing social attitudes about acceptable forms of animal harm An engaging and novel contribution to the field of Critical Animal Studies this book explores the use of animals not only in Disney's best known animated films such as 101 Dalmatians but also lesser known features including Home on the Range and Fun and Fancy Free A quantitative appendix supplying data on how often each animal species appears and the amount of times animal harm or objectification is depicted in over fifty films provides an invaluable resource and addition to scholars working in both Disney and animal studies

The Animated Bestiary Paul Wells,2009 The Animated Bestiary critically evaluates the depiction of animals in cartoons and animation more generally Paul Wells argues that artists use animals to engage with issues that would be more difficult to address directly because of political religious or social taboos      Animals and Ourselves Kathy Merlock Jackson,Kathy Shepherd Stolley,Lisa Lyon Payne,2020-09-25 The relationship between humans and animals has always been strong symbiotic and complicated Animals real and fictional have been a mainstay in the arts and entertainment figuring prominently in literature film television social media and live performances Increasingly though people are anthropomorphizing animals assigning them humanoid roles tasks and identities At the same time humans such as members of the furry culture or college mascots find pleasure in adopting animal identities and characteristics This book is the first of its kind to explore these growing phenomena across media The contributors to this collection represent various disciplines to include the arts humanities social sciences and healthcare Their essays demonstrate the various ways that human and animal lives are intertwined and constantly evolving

Surveillance in Asian Cinema Karen Fang,2017-02-24 Critical theory and popular wisdom are rife with images of surveillance as an intrusive repressive practice often suggestively attributed to eastern powers and opposed to western liberalism Hollywood dominated global media has long promulgated a geopoliticized east west axis of freedom vs control This book focuses on Asian and Asia based films and cinematic traditions obscured by lopsided western hegemonic discourse and more specifically probes these films treatments of a phenomenon that western film often portrays with neo orientalist hysteria Exploring recent and historical movies made in post social and anti Communist societies such as China Hong Kong Taiwan Vietnam and South Korea the book picks up on the political and economic concerns implicitly underlying Sinophobic and anti Communist Asian images in Hollywood films while also considering how these societies and states depict the issues of centralization militarization and technological innovation so often figured as distinctive of the difference between eastern despotism and western liberalism

Encyclopedia of Comic Books and Graphic Novels M. Keith Booker,2010-05-11 The most comprehensive reference ever compiled about the rich and enduring genre of comic books and graphic novels from their emergence in the 1930s to their late century breakout into the mainstream At a time when graphic novels have expanded beyond their fan cults to become mainstream bestsellers and sources for Hollywood entertainment Encyclopedia of Comic Books and Graphic Novels serves as an exhaustive exploration of the genre's history its landmark creators and creations and its profound influence on American life and culture Encyclopedia of Comic Books and Graphic Novels focuses on English language comics plus a small selection of influential Japanese and European works available in English with special emphasis on the new graphic novel format that emerged in the 1970s Entries cover influential comic artists and writers such as Will Eisner Alan Moore and Grant Morrison major genres and themes and specific characters comic book imprints and landmark titles including the pulp noir 100 Bullets the post apocalyptic Y The Last Man the revisionist superhero drama Identity Crisis and more Key franchises such as Superman and Batman are the center of a constellation of related entries that include graphic novels and other imprints featuring the same characters or material

Animated Film Roy Paul Madsen,1969 Applied Cartooning Art Instruction, Inc. (Minneapolis, Minn.),1919 The United States Catalog ,1906 India Rubber World ,1927 The Animated Bestiary Paul Wells,2008-11-28 Cartoonists and animators have given animals human characteristics for so long that audiences are now accustomed to seeing Bugs Bunny singing opera and Mickey Mouse walking his dog Pluto The Animated Bestiary critically evaluates the depiction of animals in cartoons and animation more generally Paul Wells argues that artists use animals to engage with issues that would be more difficult to address directly because of political religious or social taboos Consequently and principally through anthropomorphism animation uses animals to play out a performance of gender sex and sexuality racial and national traits and shifting identity often challenging how we think about ourselves Wells draws on a wide range of examples from the original King Kong to Nick Park's Chicken Run to Disney cartoons such as Tarzan The Jungle Book and Brother Bear to reflect on people by looking at the ways in which they respond to animals in cartoons and films
