Child In Prison Camp:

A Child in Prison Camp Shizuye Takashima, 1992-12-14 When Shizuye Takashima Shichan as she was called was eleven years old her entire world changed forever As a Japanese Canadian in 1941 she was among thousands of people forced from their homes and sent to live in internment camps in the Canadian Rockies Although none had been convicted of any crime they were considered the enemy because the country was at war with Japan In this true story of sadness and joy Shichan recalls her life in the days leading up to her family's forced movement to the camp her fear anger and frustration as the war drags on and the surprising joys in the camp a Kabuki play holiday celebrations and the ever present beauty of the stars

A Child in Prison Camp Shizuye Takashima, 1976 A Popular Criminology of Youth Justice Jessica Urwin, 2024-12-19 Analysing the representation of youth crime and justice involved children in popular fictional films this book explores how what we see on screen contributes to the perceptions of youth justice in society policy and practice Putting forward the argument that fictional representations have a real world impact on the opportunities available to children each chapter in the book focuses on a different genre or type of film and considers the ways in which justice involved children have been demonised stereotyped and harmed by their portrayal on the big screen From James Dean and the birth of monstrous youth in Rebel Without A Cause to the current more nuanced portrayals as seen in The Young Offenders the book examines films throughout history and across different cultures In doing so it demonstrates how portrayals of justice involved children have contributed to the social understanding of what youth crime is and who is to blame for it and highlights how we can use this knowledge to better understand and support children By combining youth justice theory with media analysis A Popular Criminology of Youth Justice Youth on Film makes a novel contribution to both fields and will be of great interest to students and researchers in the areas of youth crime youth justice and the media Takashima, A child in prison camp Tundra Books of Northern New York, Within a few months every one of them whether Canadian born naturalized citizen or new immigrants was stripped of all civil rights and submitted to three years of indignity on a scale that makes the episode the most disgraceful in the country's history The story of that time as it was experienced by one family and particularly one young girl is here told and illustrated by Canadian artist Takashima She tells it gently without hatred or anger as if she would protect us from its full harshness just as her parents tried to protect her IT somehow makes the outrage the more terrible

Boursier,2019-11-19 Told through heart wrenching testimonies photographs and artwork of refugees fleeing their homelands Desperately Seeking Asylum describes firsthand accounts of the harrowing and dangerous journey immigrants are willing to endure knowing that they might not even make it onto US soil Desperately Seeking Asylum prioritizes the testimonies of refugee families and unaccompanied children who are seeking asylum in the United States from Central America primarily Guatemala El Salvador and Honduras Their desperate and heart wrenching stories disclose why they fled their homelands their experiences along the treacherous overland journey and the harsh reality of how the United States treats these families and children upon arrival to the United States It critiques US complicity to the violence they are fleeing and discloses how national leadership shapes US immigration policies and practices including the blatant documented violations against asylum seekers at the US Mexico border Most notably it offers transparency on US immigration practices at the US Mexico border which violate existing US and international laws that are intended to protect asylum seekers including the current official practice of blocking bridges with turnbacks to prevent inadmissibles from applying for asylum in the United States It explains protections mandated by US law for unaccompanied children who are in US custody and discloses violations which keep these children detained excessive lengths of time in substandard for profit facilities which are overseen by the government and funded by taxpayers Boursier also deconstructs the complicated asylum process including examining the credible fear for asylum procedure showing how technical terms and language are used to justify injustice at the border Desperately Seeking Asylum offers hope for a new vision with alternative options and practical actions which assist migrants through humanitarian aid on both sides of the border The witness for compassionate and responsible response by people of conscious becomes an antidote to injustice against asylum seekers Instead of the current administration manipulating US laws to support its ulterior motives and political agenda Boursier asks readers to hold US elected officials accountable to the same Rule of Law that the United States demands of refugees Ultimately Boursier suggests a spectrum of options for practical ways to make the political personal through public witness and civic engagement to transform the broken immigration process for refugees who are desperately seeking asylum Annual Report of the Board of Prison Commissioners of Massachusetts Massachusetts.
