Cinematography of Carl Theodor Dreyer Paul Matthew St. Pierre,2018-11-19 Legendary Danish filmmaker Carl Theodor Dreyer 3 February 1889 20 March 1968 was born in Copenhagen to a single mother Josefine Bernhardine Nilsson a Swede His Danish father Jens Christian Torp a married farmer employed Nilsson as a housekeeper After spending his first two years in orphanages Dreyer was adopted by Carl Theodor Dreyer a typographer and his wife Inger Marie Dreyer He was given his adoptive father's name At age 16 he renounced his adoptive parents and worked his way into the film industry as a journalist title card writer screenwriter and director Throughout his career he concealed his birth name and the details of his upbringing and his adult private life which included a period in which he explored his homosexual orientation and endured a nervous breakdown Despite his relatively small output of fourteen feature films and seven documentary short films 1919-64 he is considered one of the greatest filmmakers in history because of the diversity of his subjects themes techniques and styles and the originality of the bold visual grammar he mastered In Cinematography of Carl Theodor Dreyer

Performative Camerawork Transgressing the Frame I argue 1 that Dreyer an anonymous orphan an unsourced subject manufactured his individuality through filmmaking self identifying by shrouding himself in the skin of film and 2 that as a screenwriter director who blocked entire feature films in his imagination in advance sets lighting photography shot breakdowns editing and imposed his vision on camera operators lighting directors actors and crews in production he saw filmmaking essentially as camerawork and he directed in the style of a performative cinematographer Women Constructing Men Sarah S. G. Frantz, Katharina Rennhak, 2009-12-03 Female novelists have always invested as much narrative energy in constructing their male characters heroes and villains as in envisioning their female protagonists but this fact has received very little scholarly attention to date In Women Constructing Men scholars from Australia Canada Germany Great Britain and the United States begin to sketch the outline of a new literary history of women writing men in the English speaking world from the eighteenth century until today By rediscovering forgotten texts rereading novels by high canonical female authors refocusing the interest in well known novels and analyzing contemporary narrative constructions of masculinity the contributing scholars demonstrate that female authors create male characters every bit as complex as their male counterparts Using a variety of theoretical models and coming to an equal variety of conclusions the essays collected in Women Constructing Men skilfully demonstrate that the topic of female authored masculinities not only allows scholars to re read and re discover almost every novel ever written by a woman writer but also triggers reflections on a host of theoretical questions of gender and genre In re examining these male characters across literary history these articles extend the feminist question of Who has the authority to create a female character to Who has the authority to create any character

Recovered Roots Yael Zerubavel, 1995 Because new nations need new pasts they create new ways of commemorating and recasting select historic events In Recovered Roots Yael Zerubavel illuminates this dynamic process by examining the construction of Israeli national tradition In the years leading to the birth of Israel Zerubavel shows Zionist settlers in Palestine consciously sought to rewrite Jewish history by reshaping Jewish memory Zerubavel focuses on the nationalist reinterpretation of the defense of Masada against the Romans in 73 C E and the Bar Kokhba revolt of 133 135 and on the transformation of the 1920 defense of a new Jewish settlement in Tel Hai into a national myth Zerubavel demonstrates how in each case Israeli memory transforms events that ended in death and defeat into heroic myths and symbols of national revival Drawing on a broad range of official and popular sources and original interviews Zerubavel shows that the construction of a new national tradition is not necessarily the product of government policy but a creative collaboration between politicians writers and educators Her discussion of the politics of commemoration demonstrates how rival groups can turn the past into an arena of conflict as they posit competing interpretations of history and opposing moral claims on the use of the past Zerubavel analyzes the emergence of counter memories within the reality of Israel s frequent wars the ensuing debates about the future of the occupied territories and the embattled relations with Palestinians A fascinating examination of the interplay between history and memory this book will appeal to historians sociologists anthropologists political scientists and folklorists as well as to scholars of cultural studies literature and communication
