Empty Spaces Jordan Abel, 2024-02-06 A hypnotic and mystifying exploration of land and legacy investigating what it means to be an intergenerational Indigenous survivor of Residential Schools. A singular incantatory work. The book feels as though forest itself is speaking, sky itself, river itself.

Nina MacLaughlin Boston Globe Jordan Abel's new work grows out of the groundbreaking visual expression in his recently published NISHGA, a book that combined nonfiction with photography, concrete poetry, and literary inquiry. Whereas NISHGA integrated descriptions of the landscape from James Fenimore Cooper's settler classic The Last of the Mohicans into visual pieces, Empty Spaces reinscribes those words on the page itself and in doing so subjects them to bold rewritings. Reimagining the nineteenth century text from the contemporary perspective of an urban Nisga, a person whose relationship to land and traditional knowledge and spiritual traditions was severed by colonial violence Abel attempts to answer his research question of what it means to be Indigenous without access to familial territory Engaging the land through fiction and metaphor Abel creates an eerie looping and atmospheric rendering of place that evolves despite the violent and reckless histories of North America The result is a bold and profound new vision of history that decenters human perception and forgoes Westernized ways of seeing Rather than turning to characters and dialogue to explore truth Abel invites us to instead understand that the land knows everything that can and will happen even as the world lurches toward uncertainty

The Tissues and Their Structure. A Description of the Elementary Tissues of the Human Body Alexander S. Kenny,1882 Archives of Neurology and Psychiatry ,1929 Popular Science Library: The story of our bodies, by Ernest G. martin Garrett Putnam Serviss,1930 Life and Her Children Arabella Burton Buckley,1890 A Practical treatise on diseases of the skin Oliver Samuel Ormsby,1915 The Christian Work and the Evangelist ,1906 The Routledge History of Poverty, c.1450-1800 David Hitchcock,Julia McClure,2020-12-31

The Routledge History of Poverty c 1450 1800 is a pioneering exploration of both the lives of the very poorest during the early modern period and of the vast edifices of compassion and coercion erected around them by individuals institutions and states The essays chart critical new directions in poverty scholarship and connect poverty to the environment debt and downward social mobility material culture empires informal economies disability veterancy and more The volume contributes to the understanding of societal transformations across the early modern period and places poverty and the poor at the centre of these transformations It also argues for a wider definition of poverty in history which accounts for much more than economic and social circumstance and provides both analytically critical overviews and detailed case studies By exploring poverty and the poor across early modern Europe this study is essential reading for students and researchers of early modern society economic history state formation and empire cultural representation and mobility
