How to Mortify Sin and Grow in Holiness - Volume 1 C. Matthew McMahan,2026-03-10 The Christian life is a battleground of conscience Sin does not merely lurk in the outward acts of life it settles in the heart hides in motives disguises itself as virtue and resists exposure Holiness likewise is not achieved by sentiment or self effort but by the Spirit s surgical work mortifying the old man and vivifying the new Yet multitudes of believers stumble through this conflict without clarity without tools and without guidance Modern ministry often rushes past the deep work of the soul leaving Christians with undiagnosed sins untreated wounds and unanswered cries of conscience This book seeks to change that Drawing from Scripture and the historic richness of biblical theology this volume offers a practical manual for dealing with sin at its roots Each chapter uncovers a specific sin or spiritual trouble tracing it through its hidden motions inward degrees and outward symptoms Every case is then met with precise remedies putting sin to death and putting on Christ If you hunger for holiness If you are tired of being ruled by the same sins If your conscience aches and your progress feels slow If you desire to know not only what to put off but how to put on Christ Then the work before you is a helpful instrument in the hand of the Great Physician Holiness is not accidental Sin does not kill itself Here is help that reaches the heart where the real war is fought and where Christ does His reformatory work

Japanese Higher Education as Myth Brian J. McVeigh,2015-03-04 In this dismantling of the myth of Japanese quality education McVeigh investigates the consequences of what happens when statistical and corporatist forces monopolize the purpose of schooling and the boundary between education and employment is blurred
