

With the loss of the "art of writing" brought on by modern electronic developments, the beautiful old writing instruments are becoming desirable collectors' items. This includes the decorative, often silver or gold penholders, the pointed or wide quill pens, and, particularly, the earlier piston fountain pens. Inventive geniuses, delirious experimenters, and business pioneers invented and distributed these works of art for the traveling businessman as well as the poet. Even the elegant lady could carry a writing instrument and a supply of ink with her in the form of a fountain pen. In the course of development the fountain pen became not only a useful utensil, but also a decorated and decorative status symbol, often ornamented with mother-of-pearl, silver or ivory, and equipped with a high-karat gold nib.

Author Diemar Greve, professionally and privately devoted and loyal to the beautiful writing instruments, follows the whole history of writing, from the first tool to the stylus, the quill pen to the steel pen and fountain pen. The development of the quill, steel pen and fountain pen, the histories of manufacturers, reports on the industry, and stylistic qualities, formation, and design are included. No one can expect advertisements, discussions, patent descriptions, studies of collections, production lines, writing accessories, ink chemistry. Writing and examples of it from all over the world are described so that this book offers collectors, professionals and amateurs not only a new and unique overview of the art of writing with the hand, but also handy advice and basic background information on the collection of beautiful instruments of writing.
