The Wiley-Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies Anthony M. Orum, 2019-04-15 Provides comprehensive coverage of major topics in urban and regional studies Under the guidance of Editor in Chief Anthony Orum

this definitive reference work covers central and emergent topics in the field through an examination of urban and regional conditions and variation across the world. It also provides authoritative entries on the main conceptual tools used by anthropologists, sociologists, geographers, and political scientists in the study of cities and regions. Among such concepts are those of place and space, geographical regions, the nature of power and politics in cities, urban culture, and many others. The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies captures the character of complex urban and regional dynamics across the globe, including timely entries on Latin America, Africa, India, and China. At the same time, it contains illuminating entries on some of the current concepts that seek to grasp the essence of the global world today, such as those of Friedmann and Sassen on global cities. It also includes discussions of recent economic writings on cities and regions, such as those of Richard Florida. Comprised of over 450 entries on the most important topics and from a range of theoretical perspectives, it features authoritative entries on topics ranging from gender and the city to biographical profiles of figures like Frank Lloyd Wright. Takes a global perspective with entries providing coverage of Latin America and Africa, India and China, and the US and Europe. Includes biographies of central figures in urban and regional studies, such as Doreen Massey, Peter Hall, Neil Smith, and Henri Lefebvre. The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies is an indispensable reference for students and researchers in urban and regional studies, urban sociology, urban geography, and urban anthropology. Tourism is a vital tool for political and economic change. Calls for boycotts by tourists of countries reflect the huge impact that tourist activity and the tourism industry has on political change. Berlin Ian Wallace, 1993. Berlin/Berlin. Mary Beth Stein, 1993. Divided But Not Conquered. Mark Edward O'Malley, 1992. Building the New Berlin Elizabeth A. Strom, 2001. Appraising the redevelopment of Berlin since the late nineteenth century. Elizabeth A. Strom details how the contests between politicians, bureaucrats, architects, and developers have become especially prominent since reunification. Whether addressing the historical struggle to shape the city into the important world capital that it is today, charting the re-creation of Berlin as a national government center, or exploring the city's massive economic restructuring, Building the New Berlin illustrates the intimate relationship between architecture and politics in an ongoing dialogue about whom the city should serve. Strom suggests that Berlin is a unique case study of city building in the twentieth century due to Berlin's turbulent battles over the central city, the seat of national and local governance. Nonetheless, these tensions provide fertile ground for the study of the central questions of urban political economy. Strom has fashioned an accessible, well-written, and perceptive study that not only is a valuable addition to urban development literature but also provides a foundational understanding of the debate and controversy in the planning of Berlin's city center in the 1990s.
